License okay for OK--judge

Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler was ordered in a circuit court ruling Tuesday to issue a Class A tavern license to Corral Liquors, Inc., for operation of the O.K. Corral, a new tavern now under construction at 3304 (rear) Nameoki Road.

The order was issued by Circuit Judge John W. Day after a brief hearing on a petition for a writ of mandamus filed in behalf of Jan Gilcho, operator of Corral Liquors, a package liquor store at 3304 Nameoki Road.

The order invalidated section 2783 of the city's Liquor Control Ordinance which provided that tavern licenses could not be issued to an establishment located less than 400 feet from another handling alcoholic beverages.

Mayor Schuler invoked this section of the ordinance in rejecting an application for the O.K. Corral tavern license after a petition signed by approximately 350 persons was presented to the City Council, asking that a tavern license not be issued for the O.K. Corral.

Schuler said he does not plan to appeal the ruling since it challenges the city's authority to enact such a restriction.

The mayor said it was noted that municipalities cannot adopt liquor control regulations that supersede state laws. The state regulations, he said, do not include a restriction as to distance between one establishment and another.

No testimony was given at the hearing which was set at 9 a.m. Tuesday in circuit court at Edwardsville.

Attorneys spoke briefly to the court and Judge Day remarked that he was well enough acquainted with the facts of the case that he did not believe testimony was necessary.

In his subsequent ruling he said that the Section 2783 of the ordinance (pertaining to liquor establishments) "is void and invalid in that it exceeds the statutory authority" of the city to enact such a law.

Mayor Schuler announced several weeks ago that he had refused a tavern license for the O.K. Corral as a development in a controversy over construction of the tavern building.

The O.K. Corral is being built at Edwardsville.

National Steel likely to name Howard Love as president

Howard M. "Pete" Love, president of Granite City Steel and Midwest Steel, divisions of National Steel Corporation, will be considered next Wednesday for election as president of the parent National Steel firm.

George A. Stinson is board chairman and president of National Steel Corp.

It is anticipated that directors of the corporation will consider designating Stinson as chairman and chief executive officer, and Love as president and chief operating officer.

No confirmation was available today here or at the Pittsburgh, Pa., headquarters of the corporation.

Love has been active locally and in this region as well as traveling extensively due to his duties at both Midwest and Granite City Steel, and due to his participation in "oil country" product development in the South. He is board chairman of a Liberty, Tex., National Steel subsidiary, National Pipe and Tube Co.

President of Midwest Steel, Portage, Ind., since June 1966, he became president of Granite City Steel in January 1972.

A native of Pittsburgh, Love graduated from Colgate University in 1952 with a bachelor's degree in history and chemistry.

He served in the Air Force and received a master's degree in business administration from the Harvard Business School in 1956.

The same year, he started work in the mill at the Great Lakes Division of National Steel.

He became assistant general manager, district office, in September 1964 and in January 1965 was named assistant to the president of Great Lakes Steel.

He is a director of the First Granite City National Bank and a member of Civic Progress, an organization of business and industrial leaders.

His memberships include the St. Louis Boy Scout Council executive board, and the St. Louis Children's Hospital board.

Love is a trustee of Phillips Exeter Academy, Exeter, N. H., and Miss Porter's School, Farmington, Conn.

Murder charge is filed

Barry Bloodworth, 24, Bunker Hill, Ill., a former Granite City resident, was charged by Granite City police Monday with the murder Sunday afternoon of Gregory Ehlers, 28, of 4094 Vine St., outside a mobile home at East 23rd Street and Nameoki Road.

Police allege Bloodworth was found by officers standing over Mr. Ehlers. There was a 9 millimeter pistol in Bloodworth's hand, it is alleged.

Mr. Ehlers was dead upon arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital with three bullet wounds to his abdomen and one to his head.

Officers at the scene found three spent shell casings and one slug near Mr. Ehlers' head. Two slugs also had struck a nearby mobile home. Ballistics tests and an inquest into the cause of death are to be held.

Bloodworth appeared in court Monday afternoon and his bond was set at $300,000. He was taken to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

Funeral services for Mr. Ehlers were held at 10 a.m. today at St. Peter's Catholic Church, St. Charles, Mo.

He was born in St. Louis and was employed as a painter. Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Carolyn (Trowbridge) Ehlers; two children, Gregory Paul and Carrie Elizabeth Ehlers; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eldo L. (Rosemary) Ehlers of St. Charles, Mo., and a sister, Mrs. Mary Ehlers of St. Charles.

Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, St. Louis.

Major investigation of death at Ricco's

(Editorial on Page 48)

Funeral services were conducted this morning in St. Louis for Charles Thompson, 23, St. Louis, who was fatally stabbed during a disturbance in the parking lot of Ricco's Lounge, 3675 Nameoki Road, early Monday.

Robert Delgado, 22, St. Louis, was moved Tuesday from intensive care to a regular room at St. Elizabeth Hospital with a gunshot wound suffered during that same disturbance. He is to undergo additional surgery to remove a bullet in his abdomen.

Some Granite City policemen worked as many as 40 consecutive hours Monday and Tuesday attempting to unravel conflicting statements concerning the disturbance and injuries.

Work is continuing around the clock to prepare the evidence for presentation to a Madison County grand jury in about two weeks.

Officers said they have taken statements from numerous persons and may have to question many of them again before discrepancies in some of the statements can be resolved.

Police, at first, believed Mr. Thompson had been shot as one

Crime rising in Madison; fewer police

An analysis of crime statistics for Madison and Venice shows they are well above the state average in the rates of serious crimes. Madison city officials voted last week to reduce the size of their police department.

The analysis was based on a statewide survey of crime for the year 1974, received last week from Clarence M. Kelley, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The same statistical measures show the Granite City serious crime rate was 28 per cent higher than the average crime rate in Illinois cities with populations between 25,000 and 50,000.

While suburban cities of 10,000 or fewer inhabitants had an average of 4.3 per cent of citizens victimized during 1974, Madison statistics show 10.58 per cent of the residents experienced a crime. The figure actually is not quite that high, since some persons were victims more than once during 1974.

Of each 100,000 people living in small cities in Illinois, an average of 4,391 were victims of serious crimes in 1974.

Comparing Madison's 745 serious crimes to a population of 7,042—the latest official figure from the 1970 federal census—the crime rate was found to be 10.58 per cent.

Venice authorities reported 266 major crimes during 1974. Compared to a 1970 census population of 4,680, this was a rate of 5.68 per cent.

The average small Illinois city had a crime rate of 4.3 per cent.

Some residents of Madison have objected to the decrease from 13 to 12 in the number of police officers, saying it may lead to a further increase in crime.

They said a hearing should be held on the issue, and they predicted that the results of such a hearing would be a governmental decision against further use of the road.

Petitions needed for fire service

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

A plan to assign areas of the state which do not have fire protection into existing fire districts will go into effect Jan. 1, but most people are not familiar with the provisions of the new law, Louis Whitsett, supervisor of Nameoki Township, told the Nameoki Town Board of Auditors Monday night.

Whitsett reviewed House Bill 2566, which was drafted by Rep. Everett Steele of Glen Carbon, and since has been signed into law.

The bill does not automatically give the state fire marshal the authority to assign areas into fire protection districts, Whitsett explained, adding many persons felt they automatically would be assigned to a district.

It does provide that any five voters in an area may petition the state fire marshal for assignment to a fire protection district, or any fire district board of trustees can petition the fire marshal, after which the fire marshal must determine into what fire district that area should be assigned.

Once assigned to a fire district, a fee schedule per fire call is to be followed, unless the residents of the area being assigned can negotiate other financial arrangements with the fire protection district.

The bill provides that the owner of the property to which the fire department was called shall pay $200 per call in 1976. That amount increases by $50 per year through 1981. In 1977, the fee would be $250 per call.

Disabled people's Yule wish is easier access

One of the best Christmas gifts for the physically handicapped would be reduction of structural barriers that hamper their freedom of movement, it was noted at a meeting Monday night. Some progress is being made in this regard within this region, reports showed.

Moving through a city or public building can seem like an obstacle course to a disabled person, it was pointed out. Though he may adapt to his own disability, architectural barriers and the attitudes of others can often be more difficult to overcome.

Many public buildings and other facilities were not designed with the disabled in mind. This negligence is a greater deterrent to the person who relies on a wheelchair, crutches or a cane than the handicap itself, the disabled assert.

The need to alleviate environmental barriers and educate the public about the capabilities of a handicapped person were reviewed at a dinner meeting of the Disabled Student Association (DSA) of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville held Monday night at SIUE.

Since its founding over a year ago, the DSA has been involved with promoting services for the disabled and modifying attitudes of those who believe the handicapped cannot function capably.

A video film, "Barriers: A Way of Life," was featured at the meeting. The public information film was written and produced by DSA members Vicki Conley, Joan Parrish, Dick Goodwin and Jim Doyle, as well as mass communications students Holly Hinzmann, Pat Kelly and Tim Tighe, DSA staff coordinator.

It focuses on the removal of architectural and attitudinal barriers of the disabled person and is a follow-up of a seven part radio series DSA produced for Station WSIE, said Miss Parrish, DSA president.

"There is a severe need for a mechanism that would integrate the disabled into society," said guest speaker Max Starkloff, president of the St. Louis chapter of the National Paraplegic Foundation and Paraplegic.

"They are isolated both by the environment which is not designed to allow them to function as they could, as well as by psychological barriers."

Starkloff suggested that the mechanism could be a thorough study of the needs and environmental problems faced by the disabled and a plan that would satisfy these.

Also at the meeting, certificates were awarded for dedication and service to disabled people. Awards went to Tim Tighe and DSA faculty advisors Keith St. Onge and Paul J. Campisi. A plaque went

First place in original oratory went to Lisa Rudolph. Jane Mateosian and Forrest Crawford won first place in the novice debate team category. At the tournament it was announced that they finished fifth but on Monday school officials received a telephone call from Carbondale informing them that an error had been made in the official scoring and that the students are being sent a first-place trophy. Mateosian also took second place as a novice debater.

Patricia House and Brian Konzen took fifth place in varsity debate and Mike Fisk and Jeff Robinson were finalists in the novice humorous duet activity.

George Wilkins and Larry Burns were finalists in the varsity dramatic duet activity. Rick Heath was a finalist in novice verse reading and Francesca Anselmo was a finalist in the novice division of original comedy.

Car-train collision
in Venice

Miss Janice Huggins, 18, of 129 Roosevelt Drive, Eagle Park Acres, was reported in satisfactory condition at Firmin Desloge hospital after her eastbound auto collided with a northbound Amtrak train at Market and State streets, Venice, 4:25 p.m. Monday.

Madison Police Officer Donald Bridick, 35, while approaching the scene on foot to give assistance twisted and cut his ankle. He was treated and released at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

She was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital suffering a puncture wound to the right ear, a half-inch cut to the chin, bruises to the forehead and a possible spine fracture.

Miss Huggins is also facing two traffic charges, driving without a license and disobeying a lowered railroad gate.

4-car crash

Four persons were injured when the cars of Mrs. Nellie Martin, 49, of 287 Marshall Ave., and Cornelius Doyle, St. Louis County, Mo., collided at 20th and State streets at 2:10 p.m. Tuesday. Two other vehicles were damaged in the accident.

Mrs. Martin and three passengers in her car were taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where all were released after treatment. Mrs. Martin suffered an injury to her neck. Passengers in her car who were injured were Bobby Parker, 18, of 212 Lee Ave., who suffered a back injury, his wife, Cindy Parker, 18, suffered pain to her neck, and their daughter, Crystal Parker, 18 months old, who suffered minor injuries.

After Mrs. Martin's car and Doyle's car collided, Mrs. Martin's car was pushed into the stopped car of George McGee, 212 Nevada St., and the truck of Danny McKee, 5 Harrison St.

Doyle was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way.

CAR, TRAIN COLLIDE. This auto driven by Janice Huggins of Madison was damaged at 4:25 p.m. Tuesday when it and a northbound Amtrak train collided at Market and State Streets, Venice. Lee Abernathy of Madison inspects the damage.

Nameoki board ok's office arrangements for collector

By simply agreeing to allow the transfer of a desk from one office to another, the Nameoki Town Board of Auditors made it clear Monday night that it intends to continue to utilize a township tax collector, rather than to rely upon the Madison County Treasurer's Office to collect all taxes in the township.

The board was read a letter from Nameoki Township Tax Collector Carl Macios, requesting that a spare desk in the town hall be transferred to his office.

The auditors agreed the desk was not needed in the town hall. Whitsell made the statement, "I guess there is no doubt we will continue to use the township collector," and the auditors voted unanimously to transfer the desk.

Most townships have reinstated use of township tax collectors for local tax collections because they receive their share of the taxes much faster than when the county treasurer collects the taxes. Use of township tax collectors was abolished by many townships after the 1970 Illinois Constitution prohibited collectors from taking a percentage of the taxes they collected to pay for the cost of collection.

After, after the county treasurer began to charge a pro-rated fee for collection, according to the amount of taxes collected for each taxing district, many townships decided to reinstate the local collectors and pay their salaries and office costs from the general funds of each township.

Taxpayers now have the option of paying taxes either to the township tax collector or to the county treasurer's office.

The Nameoki Town Board of Auditors did comment on one difference of opinion between the board and Macios, as Auditor Norman Hestle commented, "We stated we would make space for the collector and assessor in the new town hall addition. It is here."

Whitsell said Macios has indicated he wishes to continue to use his office, which is in his home, rather than to move the tax collection office to the town hall.

One auditor then commented, "Then there is no more rental needed," referring to the rent Macios has been charging the township for use of the office in his home. There were no further comments on that issue, which may arise in the future.

The board also voted to renew the surety bond for the collector for the upcoming year. The finance committee noted the auditors will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday to audit the township's books and to discuss a proposal to combine all the township's insurance on the town hall and its contents into one package, which may save money.

It was noted the finance committee will make a recommendation on insurance at the next regular town board meeting.

A request from the State Park Volunteer Police Unit 33-A that the township pay insurance on its new police car under a revenue sharing grant was denied after the township's attorney, H. Carl Runge Jr., gave a legal opinion he did not feel the board could use revenue sharing to pay that insurance.

The State Park department can obtain a rider policy under the Madison County Sheriff's Department policy, but would have to reimburse the Madison County Board about $400 for its share of the insurance.

The board agreed to consider requests for flashlights, hat badges and other necessary items of equipment for the new police unit, which is due to begin operations as soon as the insurance issue is settled.

Faces theft charge

Grace Peterson, 50, of 2133 Ohio St., was charged Monday with a felony count of theft for allegedly cashing a stolen payroll check at Tratlars, 1326 Nidderhous Ave.

It is alleged the woman cashed a $264 check and then paid a $70 bill, taking $194 cash with her. She later went to the police station and returned $81 of the cash. She told officers she did not know to whom the $264 check belonged.

THEFT FROM HOSPITAL. Rivica Sajfar, 2613a Grand Ave., reported last week that $50 was stolen from his wallet in a bed stand in room 448 of St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Water safety instructor course here in January

A water safety instructor training course will be conducted by the Tri-City Chapter of the American Red Cross at the YMCA in Granite City on Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays for three weeks beginning on Jan. 12.

Classes will meet from 6 p.m. until 10 p.m. on weekdays and from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturdays.

Individuals must be at least 17 years of age and possess a valid advanced lifesaving certificate from the American Red Cross.

Those individuals who currently hold a senior lifesaving certificate may obtain the new advanced certificate by completing four hours of re-training on Jan. 8 and 11 from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. at the Tri-Cities Area "Y."

Red Cross officials indicate that the average swimmer can successfully complete a full course of instruction, which consists of instruction in methods of teaching swimming and lifesaving, lifeguard training and first aid.

Upon successful completion of the course, individuals are certified as Red Cross water safety instructors, enabling them to train and certify people in Red Cross swimming and lifesaving skills in any area of the nation using revised 1975 materials.

There is no charge for the advanced certificate, conducted by a water safety instructor-trainer of the national staff of the Red Cross. A pool fee which also covers the cost of the texts and manuals is charged by the "Y."

Individuals are being asked to register in advance or obtain further information by contacting Mike Tharp at the YMCA, 876-7200. Limited openings are available and individuals are requested to call as soon as possible.

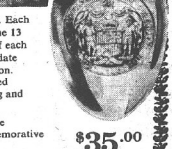

A complete set of collector spoons. Each silverplated spoon depicts one of the 13 original state seals and the name of each state, the American Eagle and the date on which the state entered the Union. On the reverse side there are crossed flags; our present United States flag and the original 13 Star Flag.

Included is a traditional Salem Pine display rack, and historical commemorative booklet and map.

BREAK INTO SCHOOL

Officials of Logan School, 2400 W. 25th St., reported at 9:40 a.m. Sunday that a northeast window had been broken and the school had been entered. Nothing was known missing or disturbed, but a west side door was left open and officers suspect the intruder may have intended to return to the school for a burglary.

Volunteers who decorated the lobby were Mr. and Mrs. Dean Ruebhausen, Mrs. Shirley Batson, Mrs. Paul Schuler and Mrs. Ernest Ell. Shown are a snowman display outside the door of City Treasurer Paul Rutledge, with a moving Santa Claus in the background.

TRY A PRESS-RECORD CLASSIFIED AD

and in 1978, that would increase to $300 per call. The rate continues increasing to a maximum of $500 per call. Homeowners could obtain fire insurance which would pay that cost, should there be a fire. Within two years of when the territory is assigned to a fire district, the county clerk shall call for an election at which residents of that territory can vote on whether or not to authorize its town board of auditors to negotiate with the fire protection district for permanent annexation into that district.

Although the law does not specify the financial terms of such agreements, it is felt most fire districts would annex such areas under the same fire tax rate paid by other residents of the district.

If the residents of the territory turn down the proposition in the election, the fire marshal will reassign that territory to a fire district and call for another election within two years. If turned down a second time, another two-year period of assignment to the fire district will follow, ending in a third election.

If the residents of the district turn down the proposition the third time, the state fire marshal is relieved of further responsibility for that area and the area may remain without fire protection.

Exempted from being assigned territories to cover are the fire departments of cities and incorporated areas and fire departments which can show satisfactory cause that assignment of a new territory would raise the fire rating classification district, thus raising the fire insurance rates of owners within the district. Quad-City area officials have expressed concern over several areas which presently are without fire protection. One is the Benjamin addition between Granite City and the Chain of Rocks Canal, which is not in any fire district. Attempts are being made to have the homeowners there annex into Granite City.

Another area of concern is along Route 162 just east of the railroad tracks where at least one home and several businesses are not in a fire district.

Included are Lindsay Construction Co., the former Red Barn Produce stand and farm, the Lakeview Driving Range & Miniature Golf Course and several residences, all found to be outside the limits of either the Granite City or Long Lake fire departments.

Granite City Steel's blast furnace and coke oven divisions also are outside of any fire district, although the company has been requested to annex them to Granite City.

Several other areas presently are without fire protection and, if the residents and property owners do not petition to have them included in a fire district, the Long Lake or Mitchell fire department trustees may initiate those actions, some officials have said.

Some fires are unpredictable, some officials say, time is important and steps may be initiated early in January to assure that all areas of the Quad-Cities wishing fire protection are assigned to a fire district as soon as possible.

Broadway

of the contractor will be arranged soon to consider solutions to the construction problems and to discuss, among other things, the penalty clause of the contract, Kettenhofen told the aldermen.

The contract for the Broadway relocation is held by the Kern Construction Co. and the S. & E. Minority Contractors, Inc., of Alton. The contract, in the amount of $917,050, was awarded by the Illinois Department of Transportation in January 1974.

The work involves 54 of a mile of paving which turns Broadway westward at Third Street to extend the highway under the Broadway overpass and to connect with Federal Aid Route 151. The job also includes approaches to McKinley Bridge.

In his report to the Venice Council Kettenhofen said: "The weather has been cold and unsettled for the past two weeks, and only one day of paving was attempted which was on Wednesday, Dec. 3."

"The paving operation was getting poor results, so only 150 feet was accomplished. Paving then was suspended until the deficiencies can be corrected."

"Some of the problems are: not getting proper thickness of pavement, wire mesh reinforcing steel is not staying in proper location, not getting proper shape and dimensions of curb and guttering, and a paving machine is not leaving the pavement surface properly finished."

"Until these matters are corrected, it is useless to continue with this paving machine, and no paving can be done in any event during the freezing weather."

to Vicki Conley of Alton for her special contributions as founding president of DSA.

Among the guests were Edwardsville Mayor Clyde L. Hartung, Alderwoman Joan Seamen and representatives from Easter Seals, Project SAVE, United Cerebral Palsy and SIUE departments.

Following the meeting, Hartung pledged support of an ordinance that would help alleviate barriers in Edwardsville public facilities.

State Rep. Wolf to be candidate

"I have filed my petitions with the State Board of Elections in Springfield for a term as state representative of the 56th District of Illinois," Rep. Sam W. Wolf of Granite City announced this week.

"Having received the endorsement of the Madison County Democratic Central Committee, I intend to actively campaign for reelection to this responsible office and to devote my activities to the service of the people within the district.

"The 56th District is a compact industrialized area with a potential for development second to none in the metropolitan area of St. Louis.

"Many problems can be foreseen in accomplishing this development of industry and commercial growth. However, if tackled one by one in a systematic manner, the results can be rewarding and successful.

"I believe that with my long business background—together with the understanding of the needs of the area—I can serve in the position of state representative in a highly efficient manner.

"My years of experience both as an Army officer and as an executive officer in business, coupled with having had the experience of supervision and promoting my own business, provide me with the many diverse qualifications required for such an elective office," Rep. Wolf commented.

"I am presently assigned to Legislative Committees such as the Environment, Energy and Natural Resources Committees, the Motor Vehicles Committee and the Banks, Savings and Loan Associations Committee.

"I am a past president of the Granite City Board of Realtors, a past president of the Granite City Kiwanis Club and presently a director of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

"I was elected as a delegate to the Mid Term Conference of the Democratic National Committee in 1974, and elected as a national committeeman of the Democratic National Committee in June 1975.

"I attended both elementary and high schools in Venice, and completed numerous short term special courses at Northwestern University and at Northwestern University.

"I am married and my wife, Mae, and I have two sons. We have lived in the Granite City area since 1947."

BURGLARY ON MYRTLE
A stereo and a tape player were stolen from the home of Alice Robertson, 3161 Myrtle Ave., during a burglary reported at 5:25 p.m. Monday. A storm door was pried open and the burglars reached through the previously broken window in the door to unlock it and enter the home. The bedrooms were ransacked. The loss was estimated at $210.

BURGLARY ON IOWA
A front door lock was broken to gain entry to the home of Richard Cox, 299 Iowa St., and to steal a console stereo, a camera and several pairs of shoes, it was reported at 3:25 a.m. Wednesday. The telephone also was pulled from the wall.

Folklore archive growing

To prevent colds, eat garlic every morning in the winter—This is just one of many bits and pieces of Illinois folklore being collected for the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Folklore Archive by John Oldani, director of the archive.

"Various adages and wives' tales, superstitions and folk rhymes, as well as handicrafts, make up the archive, which is listed in the U. S. Library of Congress directory of libraries and museums.

Oldani is no stranger to folklore and history. He has a doctorate in American studies from St. Louis University, and he worked as an assistant professor in American civilization and culture at Simpson College in Indianola, Ia., where he devised an American studies program for the college.

When he came to SIUE in 1969, Oldani used his past experience to rejuvenate SIUE's American studies program and start the university archive for folklore. Presently, the archive is the only one of its kind in Illinois and has over 57,000 volumes.

Most of the information for the archive is received from students who take Oldani's folklore class. "In each class, students do a folklore project where they go out among their own folk group and collect the various lore," Oldani said.

The students transfer each article of lore onto 3x5-inch cards which are coded and classified as to the type of information each contains.

The cards are sorted and checked by Oldani, who pays special attention to the source and accuracy of the cards' contents and places them in the archive.

He requires each student to submit at least 50 cards, but he explained that most of his students submit approximately 200 "because they get so interested in it." He has received as many as 700 from one student.

Information is also gathered for the archive by Oldani when he travels around the area giving presentations to groups and clubs.

He changes the subjects of his talks from joke facts to superstitions to the history of Southern Illinois and other themes, depending on the group's interests.

Oldani estimates he has given about 50 presentations, which he admits are his biggest interest and give him the greatest joy. "The neat thing about this is that when I go to these groups, I meet other people I can interview for the archive."

The talks and interest in the archive are creating one problem for Oldani—lack of space to display the cards and handicrafts, such as quilts, that make up the archive. The entire archive is situated in his office in the Peck Building.

"We just don't have the room for students to work. It would be convenient to be in a larger location," Oldani said.

"If we get a larger place, we'll be able to put the archive in a kind of display. We have upwards of 25 quilts here, quilt blocks, and various kinds of handicraft representing Southern Illinois. And the cards, which are really the heart of our archive, can be listed in such a way that students can get to them readily."

Oldani has been offered an Amish buggy and a hand-made cotton plow, but was forced to decline the offers because of lack of space.

"To do really good research, you have to take it out of the office, and I don't like to let any part of the archive leave because it may never come back," he said, explaining that there have been some thefts of articles from the archive.

As director of the archive and two programs—American studies and Black American studies—plus being an adviser to students, Oldani is forced to budget his time conservatively. He and his wife, Carollee, file the cards and do most of the steno-graphic work for the archive. Occasionally, their three children, Matt, seven, Susan, six, and David, four, help by trying on some of the hats and slippers.

But the future is bright for the SIUE Folklore Archive. The U. S. House of Representatives has passed a "Folklore Preservation Bill" which will set up provisions for an archive in each state. In connection with the Bicentennial, the bill will help preserve the nation's past.

"This whole notion of the Bicentennial is giving a lot of impetus to folklore. If we can push for it now and say 'Look what it is—it is your past,' then Congress is going to lap it up," Oldani said.

He sees the possibility of a national folklore archive which would contain folklore from all the states.

"The Library of Congress is setting up something in that direction. They have a man by the name of Duncan Emerich working in the Library of Congress who is in charge of the folklore and folklife collected through the library," he said.

But Oldani believes that individual states have to take the initiative toward establishing their own archives, to show the government that a folklore archive can be set up and that it has many benefits to American culture.

FIGURINES hand-carved from one piece of wood by a resident of the Missouri Ozarks are added to the hundreds of items in the Folklore Archive at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville by John Oldani, director.

Women sought in $300 theft

Two women in their 20s are being sought in connection with the theft of $300 from a cash register at Glad Rags, 14 Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center, which was reported at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Alton police are searching for the same two women who allegedly used the same method to take money from a register at the Glad Rags store in the Eastgate Shopping Center.

Store officials here said the women entered and pretended they could not speak English. One woman used a $100 bill to pay for a $15 blouse and when the clerk started to give her the change, she walked around the counter, grabbed a fist full of $20 bills and indicated, "Big bill."

She returned some $20 bills to the cash register and the clerk gave her change in big bills, he said. It later was discovered that $300 in $20 bills had been taken.

$200 STEREO TAKEN
The front door was pried open to gain entry to the home of Dorothy Tayon, 1635 Edison Ave., and to steal a $200 stereo system, it was reported at 9:55 p.m. Tuesday.

Airman Bryan D. Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland P. Cooper, Glen Carbon, has been graduated with honors from the Air Force weather observer course at Chanute Air Force Base, Kansas.

Airman Cooper now is qualified to operate storm detection and weather communications equipment. He has been assigned to Fairchild AFB, Washington, for duty with a unit of the Military Airlift Command.

A 1973 graduate of Granite City High School, Cooper attended Southwest Baptist College and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Theft attempt foiled, two are arrested

John M. Overturf, 21, St. Louis, was charged with attempted theft after police alleged finding him inside the fence of House Auto Parts, 18th Street and Madison Avenue, at 12:20 a.m. Wednesday throwing used auto batteries over the fence and into the alley.

About 50 batteries had been thrown over the fence when police arrived, it was alleged. About five minutes after the arrest, Gary Haynes, 23, St. Louis, came to the Granite City Police Department, inquiring about Overturf. Officers questioned Haynes and alleged he had been "the lookout" for Overturf. Haynes was charged with conspiracy.

COLONIAL SOLDIERS. Fifth grade students of St. Mary-Mark School observed "Colonial Day," complete with soldiers shown from the left, Gene Robertson, Ed

Buck, Norma Belcoff, Mark Mainfidge, Carol Scaturro, Billy Dorris, David Breeden, Kerry Greer, Brian Papa and Bobby Steiner.

Students mark 'Colonial' Day

The classroom resembled a colonial school and "horn" books were made and used in place of regular text books in the fifth grade at St. Mary-Mark school in Madison last week as the students observed "Colonial Day."

The children dressed in colonial clothing and brought items from home that were used during the colonial era.

Spelling bees were held. The students made homemade games and enjoyed playing with them, according to their teacher, Mrs. Francis Page.

An early American lunch was served, followed by a demonstration of marching drills by the boys.

Much study has gone into the history of the 13 colonies according to the teacher, and the students have made dioramas of Indian and Colonial homes.

The children also were taught some early American folk dances.

Special programs and studies will be held by the fifth graders throughout the year in keeping with a bicentennial theme.

ADM to replace sewer

Construction is to begin as soon as materials arrive to replace a sanitary sewer from the Archer Daniels Midland Co. soybean processing plant on Cargill Road into the city's sewage lift station near Mockingbird Lane, it was learned by the Press-Record Tuesday.

The sanitary sewer line, which carries wastewater, under pressure, from the soybean plant into existing city sewers, erupted in several places recently, causing the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency to investigate.

It was alleged the company had used plastic pipe, capable of handling 100 pounds per square inch of pressure under normal temperatures, but then had forced hot water through the pipe, causing disfiguration of much of the pipe and several eruptions.

The eruptions were discussed by the Nameoki Town Board of Auditors at the board's regular meeting Monday night as auditors expressed concern the sewage seeping to the ground surface may be endangering the line.

ADM has agreed to replace the line, even though it was dedicated to Granite City after it was completed by the soybean plant.

The sanitary line was a topic of controversy in April 1974 when several residents of Steelcrest Village Manor agreed to grant the rights-of-way through their properties for the sewer line, if they would be allowed to tap their homes onto the line.

A formal request was made to the Granite City Council for 18 homes to tap onto the new line, even though they were not in the city.

Despite objections from Alderman Walter Nomm that the city formerly prohibited tap-ons outside of the city, the council voted 12-1 to permit the tap-ons and allow the sewer to be constructed.

Mrs. Roberts, 77, dies

Mrs. Margie E. Roberts, 77, a resident of the Weier Retirement Home in Belleville since September, died at 8:40 p.m., Monday at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Belleville.

For several months, Mrs. Roberts was a patient at the hospital two weeks.

Born in Pease, Ill., she was a lifelong resident of the Quad-City area.

Prior to her retirement, Mrs. Roberts was employed as a bookkeeper at Massey Dairy.

Her husband, Timothy Roberts, died in July 1953.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Edith Champion of Charleston, Ill.; two brothers, Courtney Richardson of Hillsboro, Ill., and Sam Richardson of Belleville; three sisters, Mrs. Golda Thornburg and Mrs. C. E. (Ruth) Townsend, both of Granite City, and Mrs. Edna Newman of Allon; five grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Wednesday. Details are given in the obituary column.

To explain TV caption techniques

The techniques used to caption television programs on PBS will be evaluated at 7:30 p.m. today and Friday at the KETC-TV, Channel 9 studios, 6996 Millbrook Blvd.

Barbara Levittov from the Captioning Center at WGBH-TV in Boston will conduct the sessions at Channel 9.

Representatives from the Captioning Center are currently touring the United States to assess the opinions of deaf viewers on the various captioning methods used, specifically those used on "The ABC Captioned News."

The evening's programs include both visual and written tests, open discussion between Barbara Levittov and participants, and a sample captioned film. The tests will cover such points as: the amount of time words should remain on the screen, the manner in which the captions are formed, and even the type of programs which hearing-impaired viewers would like to have captioned.

The results of this nationwide assessment will lead to improved captioning techniques in the future.

The only requirements necessary for participation in the evaluations are that participants be both hearing-impaired and viewers of "The ABC Captioned News."

Tonight's attendance quota has already been met, but KETC-TV would welcome inquiries from viewers who are interested in attending the

Friday night meeting. To confirm arrangements, Quad-Cityans may contact Eileen Burke at Channel 9, 6996 Millbrook Blvd., St. Louis, Mo. 63130.

KETC-TV, Channel 9 is captioning a wide range of programs this season. These include a dramatic series about the life of George Sand, "Notorious Woman," on Masterpiece Theater, David Attenborough's study of tribal art, "Tribal Eye," and "The ABC Captioned News," which airs at 11 p.m. every weekday night.

A captioned telecast of "The Adams Chronicles," a special Bicentennial series about the lives of the historically significant Adams family, begins at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, Jan. 20.

Urges care in toy buying

Despite a 1970 state law banning the sale of toys that blind, burn and kill, seemingly safe toys can still be dangerous, according to the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

In selecting Christmas toys this year, parents should be alert to the potential dangers to sight, the ISPBS says, anyone who buys toys should be aware that a toy, safe for one age group, may be a hazard for a younger child.

"Good old-fashioned common sense is the clue for all toy shoppers," Edgar T. Britton, executive director of the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness, emphasizes.

"Shoppers should ask themselves before completing any purchase: Can the toy shatter? Can seemingly harmless wood splinter? Does the toy have sharp edges that could endanger the eyes?"

"There is always an element of danger to young, inquisitive eyes in any toy. Also, youngsters have an innate desire to take their toys apart, and this innocent exercise in demolition could uncover dangerous fragments.

"The eyes, for example, can often be pulled out of a stuffed animal or doll by an inquisitive child, exposing sharp objects which could be a threat to vision."

"This year," Britton concludes, "shop with even greater care. The objective is to bring joy, not tragedy, into young lives."

With 379 cameras to choose from, which one should you buy?

OK, you want a new camera, but you're confused by the hundreds of models available. That's understandable. Perhaps we can be of some help.

First, let's assume you're not an avid hobbyist, but you do want to take good pictures. Between the simple fixed-focus cameras and the sophisticated professional equipment there's one that's right for you.

The most popular is the 35mm Compact, versatile and shoots 20 or 36 pictures per roll. Within this category is the single lens reflex (SLR) camera that lets you view your subject through the lens so you see exactly what will be in the picture. SLR's permit lens interchangeability. Most SLR's also have through-the-lens metering that measures only the light that actually gets to the film for more accurate exposure. Some also have through-the-lens metering with fully automatic exposure control, in which an electric eye adjusts the lens opening for proper exposure automatically. There are very few fully automatic SLR's from which to choose. Frankly, we think the Petri FTCE offers the best value of them all. It has every important feature, uncomplicated handling and a price that's just right. List price $299.95 complete with 1/1.8 lens and case.

No revenue sharing for Dobrey

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer
Advocates of a plan for using Namecki Township's federal revenue sharing funds to help finance drainage improvements in the Dobrey Slough area may have to seek other means of financing those improvements. Louis Whitsell, supervisor of Namecki Township, indicated during Monday night's Town Board of Auditors meeting.

Whitsell said he has received new guidelines for the use of federal revenue sharing funds which prohibit the use of the federal monies as "matching funds" on any project. Persons working for relief of damages caused by a high water table in the Dobrey Slough area have been advocating a project using the township's revenue sharing and matching state or federal funds.

to sink wellpoints and pump water from the ground to lower the water table. Whitsell referred a copy of the revised revenue sharing guidelines to the township's attorney, H. Carl Runge Jr., for study. While not mentioning the Dobrey Slough, Whitsell noted, "This may pertain to some requests for projects which may require matching funds. We can get into that when they bring their requests to us."

In other business, Runge noted he is checking with the Madison County and state health departments to determine if either will declare Parkview Estates a health hazard due to poor drainage. He said even if an appeal to a court order blocking drainage improvements fails, the state or county could act under emergency powers to improve drainage in Parkview Estates. Albert Bell, the township's highway commissioner, is appealing a circuit court ruling that drainage improvements in that area be halted and that the road elevations be changed to correspond with the original drainage of the area. That order has been criticized by several officials and has led to a popular saying in the Parkview area that "the judge has ordered the water to flow uphill."

Runge noted that the township has no condemnation right and could not take action, even if it declared Parkview Estates as having an emergency health hazard. "If we get some heavy spring rains, that area is going to be in serious trouble," Runge noted. He said he is attempting now to find some body with condemnation power which would be willing to declare an emergency in the Parkview area. Whitsell commented, "There is no question the East Side Levee and Sanitary District would have that authority and is our local drainage body."

Runge responded, "The levee district is up for grabs right now." He said the state has a "quick take" right if the area is declared a health hazard, which means it can take the right-of-way for drainage improvements, and negotiate later with each property holder to reach a fair price for the right-of-way.

"The levee district is very reluctant to act due to the court order," Nick (Vassilef), attorney for the highway department, loses his appeal, we should be ready to go, if not before. "We should get the state interested as soon as possible."

Whitsell reported that men obtained at no direct cost to the township through the Manpower Grant have completed clearing a path from the area of Angela Drive to the state's pump station at the southeast corner of Dobrey Slough. The township, using its powers to abate a health hazard, will use its equipment to landscape and trench, where necessary, in the newly-cleared area to improve drainage from the residential areas near Angela and Roney drives to the pump station. A pump there moves the water through an underground sewer and into existing Granite City sewers which empty into the Namecki Ditch. While the improved drainage to the pump station will not improve the ground water table problems in the slough area, it will aid in the removal of surface water, particularly after a storm, the officials said.

SUIE treatment plant at less than capacity

An average of about 475 million gallons of wastewater are treated each month at the western Illinois University at Edwardsville waste treatment plant, according to Clifford Fore, plant program director. Fore said the SUIE treatment facility operates at about one-fifth its capacity on a monthly average. However, weekdays are considered heavy days for the plant with nearly 210 thousand gallons of wastewater being treated. About 120 thousand gallons are treated on weekends. Holidays are also slow days for the facility. For example, on Thanksgiving Day only 84 thousand gallons of wastewater were processed. Fore said the amount of waste generated on the SUIE campus and treated at the plant is equivalent to that produced by a city with a population of about 6,100. There are over 12,000 students enrolled and about 1,600 faculty and staff members at SUIE. Approximately 1,500 students live full-time in Tower Lake Apartments on campus.

Burglar twists off door knob to enter

Tools were used to twist off a knob on the front door and enter the home of Janet Hetherington, 2400 Edison Ave., in a burglary reported at 4:10 p.m. Friday. The entire house was ransacked, and drawers were overturned on the floor. Taken were $300 cash, a $25 money order and a savings account book.

SUIT FOLLOWS CRASH

Elvis W. Flowers has filed suit in Madison County Circuit Court seeking $25,000 from the former Quad-City and Modern Cab Co., Granite City. He alleges that on July 18, 1975, he was injured when his auto and a taxicab collided at Eighth and State Streets, Madison.

Nameoki pays Madison for traffic signals

A check for $6,791 is on its way from Nameoki Township to the Madison City Hall to settle a dispute nearly seven years old—whether the township would reimburse the city half the cost of installing crossing lights at Sixth Street and McCambridge Avenue.

The money had been transferred by the auditors at the previous meeting from the township general fund into the road and bridge fund under a promise from Nameoki Township Highway Commissioner Albert Bell that he would put the payment on his bill list, if the township would give his department the money.

The Town Board of Auditors last month asked its attorney, H. Carl Runge Jr., whether it could pay the bill from the general fund and Runge gave an opinion that crossing lights would have to be paid out of highway funds. A bill then was requested from Madison Mayor Mike Sasysk and the $6,791 was ordered transferred to the road and bridge fund.

The dispute began in January 1969 when a former township supervisor pledged that if Madison would install the lights, the township would reimburse half the cost. The lights were installed, but the township administration changed before the bill was paid and the later administration refused to pay the bill, saying they did not feel they had the right to pay for school crossing lights.

Several methods of obtaining the funds were studied by the present board before it was determined the bill could be paid from road and bridge funds. There have been several areas of disagreement between the township and Madison in the last few years, the major ones being the crossing light bill, the question of who is responsible for the maintenance of Farish Street in East Madison, and the question of who should provide fire coverage in East Madison, which is within Nameoki Township.

At the board's meeting last month, a letter from Bell to Sasysk was read, requesting a settlement of the other two major issues, now that the crossing light disagreement has been settled.

has not yet been received. The question of fire protection may be settled by a new state law which becomes effective Jan. 1 in which residents of areas such as East Madison may apply to the state fire marshal to be assigned to a fire protection district.

BOWLING THEM OVER. Tom Terril, Granite City, gives a student from the Madison County Association for Retarded Citizens instructions on how to handle a bowling ball at the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville lanes. Carom ball, a form of bowling in which special rails keep the ball from dropping into gutters is played by the teenagers. "It's really terrific for SIUE to lend its facilities to an outside agency," Terril said, "especially since these kids wouldn't be able to bowl otherwise."

Lincoln wins by 67-66—or was it 68-67 for Venice?

Venice High School basketball fans who witnessed Tuesday's cage tilt between the Red Devils and the Lincoln High Tigers at East St. Louis are still reviewing it in their minds, seeking a self-satisfying answer as to whether or not Venice really lost 67-66.

With the score at 67-66, Jaffee Woolfork of Venice attempted a basket which rolled around the rim and then off and onto the floor, host Lincoln making the recovery with 10 seconds left to play.

Lincoln's full-court pass landed out of bounds, giving Venice the inbound throw.

Following a time out called by Coach Richard Essington, Venice's James Crowder bounced the ball in to James Turner, who in turn passed downcourt to Ronald Salmond.

Salmond put it through the net for what one official ruled a two-point basket as the game-ending time expired.

But an official at the sidelines overruled his counterpart, saying that no more time remained on the clock when Salmond sank the ball.

The Tigers, now undefeated in five outings, had jumped to a 19-12 first-quarter lead over the Red Devils, who had a 2-0 mark going into the contest.

But the Red Devils had "hot hands" in the second period of play, scoring 24 points to the Tigers' 12 for a 36-31 halftime margin. Providing the points for that quarter for Venice were Woolfork with 10, Crowder six, and Turner and Reggie Gardner four points each.

Lincoln regained the lead about three minutes into the third period after Venice missed its first seven shots from the floor. The Tigers held on for a one-point margin, 49-48, going into the final period of play.

Faced by Gardner, a 5-11 senior, who scored five baskets, Venice matched the host team's 18 points with 21 seconds showing on the clock for the 67-66 score.

Venice had an edge from the floor, making 32 field goals to Lincoln's 28.

At the foul line, Lincoln hit nine of 16 charity tosses and Venice two of five.

Venice committed the most fouls, 16-6.

Tiger Curtis Turner headed his team's scoring effort with 25 points, and Red Devil Gardner led Venice in scoring with 23. Woolfork, a 6-3 senior, had 19 points, Crowder 14, Turner eight and Rick Salmond, a 5-11 sophomore, two.

Even to get into a position to possibly win the game, the Red Devils needed a brilliant rally, and got it.

Ahead by only a point, going into the fourth period, Lincoln stretched its lead to 61-54 with three minutes left. But instead of stalling, the Tigers tried difficult shots and began missing.

The Red Devils put together a scoring surge to cut their deficit to 63-62. Crowder made it 64-63 in favor of Venice with a minute left.

After a Lincoln field goal by John Spencer with 45 seconds remaining in the game, Venice failed to score and Lincoln tried to maintain possession. Woolfork stole the ball and cashed in with a big two-pointer to put the Red Devils ahead 66-65.

Spencer was called for charging, giving Venice the ball, but another turnover set the stage for Ronald Gully to score for Lincoln and provide a one-point home team edge.

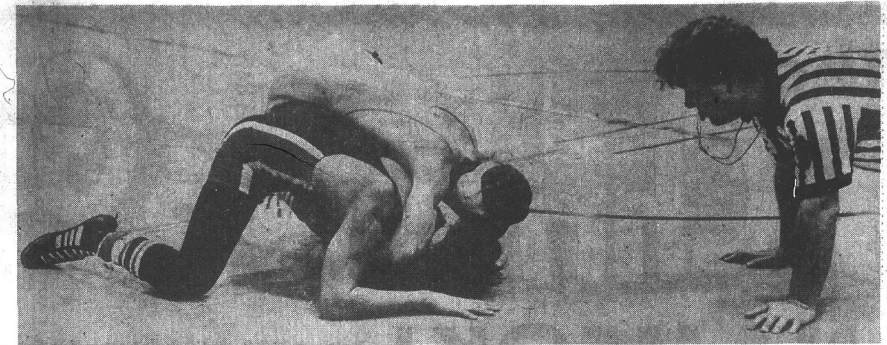

Next came Woolfork's near-miss, followed by the bad Tiger pass. With four seconds left to play, the attempt to get the ball from Crowder to Turner to Ronald Salmond followed.

Some Venice fans say the clock started too soon and the Red Devils actually were given only two seconds, a span of time they may have exceeded by a second.

The ball did go in the hoop for an apparent winning field goal for Venice, but long minutes afterward the referees reached agreement and disallowed it, delighting the Lincoln fans.

McKinley 4th Trojan victim

Madison High School's Trojan cagers have a 1975-76 record of four wins against one loss after defeating the McKinley High School Goldbugs 77-50 Tuesday at St. Louis. McKinley is winless in three outings.

Brothers Ron and Randall Jones scored in double figures for Madison for the fifth straight time this season. Ron, a 6-3 senior guard, posted 28 points and Randall Jones, a 6-3 junior forward, 16.

Of Madison's five-game total of 38 points scored against its opponents, the Jones brothers have combined for 213 of that total.

Madison gained a big lead, 29-12, at the end of the first period, and extended the margin to 42-21 and 57-35 in the following quarters before adding five more points to the margin with a 20-15 fourth period.

The Joneses hit seven field goals apiece in the contest, and Madison as a team meshed 27 in 59 attempts. Ron Jones added 14 points from the foul line in 16 tries.

Madison hit 23 of 29 tosses from the charity stripe and totalled 16 fouls and 17 turnovers.

McKinley, paced in scoring by Gary Evan's 15 points, shot only 25 per cent from the floor, 20 of 75, and connected with 10 of 16 free throws. The Goldbugs fouled 20 times and gave up possession of the ball 22 times on turnovers.

The two schools matched rebound recoveries with 38 apiece. Ron Jones pulled down 12 of Madison's total.

Scoring also for Madison were Edwin Garrett 11 points, Joe Gulaah, Danny Bankhead and Robert DeLoach six each and Rodney Davis, four.

Keough cited the many people who have supported the program here by participating as coaches and managers and in other roles.

Santa greets Rotary Anns

Santa Claus was standing on a ladder decorating the home of Mrs. Clara Huber, 3245 Willow Ave., when he greeted members of the Granite City Rotary Anns and their guests as they arrived at the group's annual Christmas party.

Assisting the hostess with games and refreshments, all carried out in a holiday theme, were Mesdames Evelyn Ackerman, Judy Decker, Marie Dotzauer, Millie Greathouse, Wilma Herring, Millie Meek, Peggy Milton, Judy Rudolph, Norma Schroeder and Beverly Scroggins.

Mrs. Scroggins gave a reading entitled "Why the Bells Chimed," followed by a gift exchange. Gaily wrapped gifts were numbered and each one present drew a corresponding number from a yuletide stocking to receive a gift.

During the evening "Santa Bingo" was played and prizes were awarded to Mesdames Linda Bristol, Carme Froemling, Anita Elftimoff, Maxine Jackson, Mary Matosian, Billie Schuler, Evelyn Smith, Jo Ann Terrell, Barbara Thoele and Mary Wilkins.

Others present were Mesdames Lorraine Decatur, Connie Fielding, Dorothy Kerch, Kathy Lombardi, Cheryl Mangi, Betty Mathias, Joyce Mills, Marian Pierson, Rosalie Portell, June Van Horn and Lois Winter.

The Jan. 6 meeting will be with Mrs. Pierson as hostess.

Sisters entertain Circle 835

Nuns from the Order of Divine Providence played Christmas songs and led a holiday carol song fest at the yule party of Our Lady of Fatima Circle 835, Daughters of Isabella, held last week at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Lawrence Mattingly gave the invocation and spoke on "things we have to be thankful for at Christmas time."

Regent Mrs. Irma Manning welcomed the 64 members and guests and introduced guests, Father Zaunmeyer, Father Henry Mack and Father James Becker.

Providing the musical program were Sister Mary Donald, Sister Barbara McMullen, Sister Barbara Honerkamp, Sister Marie Patterson and Sister Mary Sue Mertens.

Games were played and gifts were exchanged.

Others attending were Florence Ashall, Irene Argelana, Ann Brennan, Frances Boker, Ethel Baldwin, Mary Ann Bunk, Vera Carey, Peggy Crnkovich, Bernice Grimmins, Helen DeRuntz, Barbara DeRuntz, Esther Farr, Frances Gruber, Berdell Goeller, Ann Gies, Grace Hennrich, Rosalie Johannmeier, Josephine Knezovich, Martha Kozuszek, Veronica Kula, Mildred Kraus, Mary Kastelle, Marianrose Lambert, Anna Mokri, Wilma Manco, Coil Manco, Elizabeth Mehele, Dell Miller, Gussie Musterman, Florence Portell, Ann Pare, Mary Pastain, Mary Ann Petrunic, Veronica Patrick, Ann Pieper, Stephanie Rusick, Grace Range, Margaret Richardson, Margaret Rimarchik, Clara Schullinger, Rose Schmitt, Joan Stanton, Cecelia Spinks, Marie Szymczek, Agnes Schwartzkopf, Frances Skubish, Mary Uhercik, Olga Varley, Margaret Waller, Josephine Yurko and Mary Yobby.

Truth Circle plans projects

Truth Circle of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church met at the home of Mrs. Virginia Helms, 2401 Delmar Ave. Mrs. Betty Williams, leader of the group, called the meeting to order and Mrs. Mary Piper gave the lesson on "The Real Meaning of Christmas" using scripture taken from Luke 2:2, John 1:14 and Isaiah 9:6.

A report was given on the success of the recent bazaar given by the United Methodist Women and plans for the forthcoming installation service and Christmas program of the United Methodist Women, the annual live nativity scene presented by the entire church, and the blood bank program.

Mrs. Helms served refreshments to Mesdames Kathryn Richardson, Elsie Elmore, Dolores Allen, Shirley Loy, Elizabeth Dix, Elizabeth Briggs, Geneva Miller, Edna Stille, Mary Piper, Betty Williams, and one guest, Miss Dena Helms, who assisted her mother.

66 local state scholars

The Illinois State Scholarship Commission has named 14,338 students as Illinois state scholars in the 1976-77 competitive Illinois State Scholarship Program. High school academic record and examination scores are used in the selection process.

Included are 68 Quad-Cityans. The state scholars represent nearly every high school in the state and were chosen from 47,596 students who entered the competition by taking either April 26 or June 14, 1975, examination administered by the American College Testing Program (ACT).

All state scholars receive a certificate of merit from the ISSC which personally and publicly identifies them as having high academic achievement in high school. The Illinois state scholar winner may qualify for monetary assistance through the monetary award program of the Illinois State Scholarship Commission.

Monetary awards, up to $1,500 for 1976-77 for use toward tuition and mandatory fees, are based solely on financial need as determined by the ISSC need analysis formula. Monetary awards are applicable at public or private colleges, hospital schools of nursing, and allied health schools in Illinois. Financial need is evidenced by data provided by the student and his family in the 1976-77 monetary award application. Any student who is not named in the competitive Illinois state scholar program—who also is a permanent resident or citizen of the United States, an Illinois resident, and will attend an approved college, university, hospital school or nursing or allied health school in Illinois in September 1976—may obtain a 1976-77 monetary award application from his high school counselor or by writing directly to the Illinois State Scholarship Commission, 102 Wilmot Road, Deerfield, Ill. 60015.

For the 1975-76 academic year, 92,000 undergraduate students are being assisted with nearly $64,000,000 in monetary awards. Announced as state scholars are six Madison residents—Michael P. McClanahan, 1684 Fourth St., Janet S. Miller, 1545 Second St., Mark S. Ruesing, 1032 Reynolds St., Teresa K. Thompson, 1601 Fourth St., Richard W. Tutka, 1826 Sken St., and Rick Walker, 1600 Fifth St.

Vickers explains school needs to M-V Rotary club

Venice traditionally has a background of a financially sound school district, but during recent years there has been a tremendous drop in assessed valuation without an increase in school taxes since October 1969, Robert Vickers, superintendent of schools at Venice, told the Wednesday noon meeting of the Madison-Venice Rotary club at the Madison Recreation Center.

Vickers noted that the district's assessment has decreased from $39 million to $31 million during the past 12 years, which the speaker noted has been during a period of inflation which has increased the cost of operating school facilities, purchasing supplies and equipment and hiring personnel.

"Even a 60-cent increase will not get us out of debt; but we should be able to get by for the next five years without going to second-year anticipation payments," Vickers said.

The special election on Saturday, Dec. 20, calls for public authorization of a 60-cent increase in the present educational fund tax rate ceiling which now is $2.05 for each $100 of assessed valuation in the Venice school district.

Vickers emphasized that due to the "crunch" a number of faculty members and non-certificated staff members have been released, and other expenditures have been cut. "A limited curriculum had to be limited even further after several elections in recent years have failed," Vickers said.

By Boris C. Gitcho, owner of Corral Liquors, on property at the rear of and just north of the package liquor store. Building work was stopped in late October on the petition of approximately 65 neighborhood residents who contend that drainage plans for the tavern were insufficient and that residential properties would be flooded in periods of heavy rains.

Gitcho, accompanied by his own engineer, attended a meeting of the council in which new drainage plans were submitted. The plans were approved by the council and construction of the building was resumed.

At this point, the petitions asking that a liquor license be issued was submitted to the council. Mayor Schuler refused the license as a result of these petitions, resulting in the mandamus proceeding in which Tuesday's ruling was given.

Council members since have agreed to a complete review and revision of the city liquor control ordinance.

Alderman Emerald Dawes of the Seventh Ward who has spearheaded opposition of neighborhood residents against construction of the tavern, said after the ruling that "I'm not through yet."

Pom pon program at cage halftime

Pom Pon girls of Granite City High School North will present a special halftime program at the basketball game Saturday against Springfield Southeast, according to Harold Stoker, president of the Granite City High School North Band parents.

The band parents met in the school library Tuesday evening. Stoker also announced that the North vs. South basketball game is scheduled Thursday Jan. 29.

A discussion on the band party, which will be scheduled sometime in January, was held. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Dorothy Kenny and Mrs. Louis Hebblethwaite.

The next meeting of the band parents will be held on Tuesday, Jan. 6, in the school library. Stoker said that the meeting will start one-half hour earlier at 7:30 p.m.

officer reported hearing someone near the car in which Mr. Thompson was found yelling, "I'm shot. Help me. I'm shot."

He was dead upon arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital. X-rays were taken there and showed no signs of a bullet. An autopsy was held Tuesday and revealed a wound to his abdomen had been caused by a knife.

X-rays also failed to show that Delgado had been shot, but he later was found to have a bullet lodged in his abdomen. He was in critical condition two days before being removed from the intensive care unit.

A third young man, Calvin M. Pool, 23, Normandy, Mo., suffered a cut across his forehead, which he says was caused by a bullet. Police found him in a storeroom inside the lounge with several other persons who were attempting to stop the bleeding from his head.

Pool was taken by police to St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment, but he declined the treatment and was released after being questioned by police.

Officers said statements they have taken thus far indicate there was a disturbance inside the lounge and lounge officials told those involved to leave.

A fight ensued in the parking lot and Delgado was shot as he was attempting to reach his car. He was found lying in the parking lot.

Police believe Delgado had come to Rico's II from Missouri with a friend—Mr. Thompson, another young man and a young woman.

Inside the car Delgado was attempting to reach when he was shot, officers found Mr. Thompson, bleeding severely. He was lying on the front seat with his feet out the driver's side window when officers reached him.

Police first were told there was a gun in that car and stopped it, ordering the occupants out. Three persons, including one woman, got out and were searched. Mr. Thompson then was removed to an ambulance. No guns were found.

Someone gave officers a knife which they said they had found inside a trash can in the lounge. Police, believing both Delgado and Mr. Thompson had been shot, took the knife as possible evidence and placed it in a drawer. After discovering Mr. Thompson had been stabbed, the knife was inspected closely and officers now believe it was the murder weapon.

Police have been unable to determine how many gunshots were fired during the disturbance before officers arrived. In addition to the bullet which struck Delgado, officers found a bullet which had struck the right rear fender of a car in the parking lot belonging to the Rico's II bar manager, Frank Urban.

Official autopsy reports from Mr. Thompson's examination will not be available until chemical studies are completed, in about two weeks. Unofficially, officials said his wound appeared to have been caused by a knife and appeared to be the cause of death.

Mr. Thompson also sustained a minor cut to his head. That cut was not believed to have been serious.

Police have appealed to anyone who may have witnessed anything or in near the lounge early Monday which will not be available until further notice and is studying whether to call for a hearing on the establishment's liquor license.

Crime

city reported an average rate of 4,339.1 crimes per 100,000 persons during 1974. Multiplying that figure by 7 per cent, representing Madison's 7,042 population as of 100,000 persons, indicated that a city of 7,042 might have had 303.73 major crimes, on the average.

Madison police reported 745 major crimes, 2.42 times the average rate, or 145 per cent more crime than the average Illinois city of 10,000 or fewer persons.

Madison reported three murders in 1974 while calculations show the average rate for a city its size would have produced 406, less than one murder.

Two rapes reported in the city also exceeded the rate of 875, less than one per year.

While the rate in small cities for robberies was 12.5 per 100,000 persons, or 4,375 for each 7,042 citizens, 27 robberies occurred in Madison in 1974.

Aggravated assault and battery cases were far above the average of 10.41 for each 7,042 citizens, as Madison reports totaled 119.

A total of 245 burglaries reported in Madison was well above the 72.1 average for a city that size or the 1,031.1 rate per 100,000 persons.

Theft and larceny cases showed a rate of 2,744.7 for each 100,000 persons or 192.12 for a city of Madison's size. Madison had 287 theft or larceny cases. Auto thefts also were above the average. Statistically, Madison might have had 18.47; actual reports numbered 62.

Venice was found to compare more favorably to the statewide averages for small cities in Illinois during 1974, having fewer murder, manslaughter and larceny-theft cases than the average, but being higher in the other categories.

Venice police noted 266 serious crimes against a statewide total of 4,339 crimes per 100,000 persons or 203.6 for each 4,680 persons, the equivalent of the Venice population.

While there were 5.8 murders or homicides for each 100,000 persons, an average of .271 for the population of Venice, Venice reported a year free of murders or homicides.

An average rate of 12.5 rapes per 100,000 persons in small suburban cities translates into an average of .585 for the population equivalent of Venice.

Venice exceeded that average by nearly nine times with five rapes reported in 1974.

While the average number of robberies for a city the size of Venice was 2.925, there were 15 Venice robberies.

Aggravated assaults were the farthest out of proportion. There might have been only 2.28 aggravated assaults in the city, statistically, but 37 were reported.

An average of 110.31 burglary cases per 100,000 persons in small cities throughout the state indicated an average for a city the size of Venice of 51.625 burglaries. Venice reports totaled 99 during the year.

Larceny and theft cases statewide averaged 128.45 for each number of people equivalent to Venice's population, and Venice was well under the average with 95 theft or larceny cases during 1974.

Vehicle theft cases in Venice, 15, exceeded the average rate of 12.35.

In comparisons between the Quad-Cities and the remainder of the state, it is noted that the local cities are in a metropolitan area and have characteristics which most of the other cities may not have.

The Quad-Cities are close to St. Louis and East St. Louis, which are believed to have an effect on the crime rates here.

Most cities of 10,000 or fewer inhabitants in the state are rural, with few exceptions other than in the suburban Chicago area.

Many of the small suburbs around Chicago are wealthy communities, which also has a downwards effect on crime rates.

Ethnic makeup of cities also can affect crime rates, according to the crime survey.

The survey also included crime statistics for Madison County and for Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The unincorporated areas of Madison County had a total of nine murders and intentional manslaughter, 17 rapes, 52 robberies, 95 aggravated assaults, 1,072 burglaries, 912 larceny-theft cases and 250 vehicle thefts.

SIUE reported two robberies, six aggravated assaults, 40 burglaries, 312 larceny and theft cases and 26 vehicle thefts during 1974.

The report also analyzed down the types of weapons used in murders throughout the state.

Handguns were used in 54 per cent of the Illinois murders, rifles in 5 per cent, shotguns in 9 per cent, knives in 18 per cent, other weapons in 7 per cent and fists or feet in 8 per cent.

The 101 per cent total results from "rounding off" of figures by the statisticians.

Most victims were in their 20s, with the 30s being close behind.

Police in Illinois solved 80 per cent of the murders, 51 per cent of the rapes and 63 per cent of the aggravated assaults.

But the percentages were much lower for property crimes, with 27 per cent of the robberies cleared by arrests, 18 per cent of the burglaries, 15 per cent of the motor vehicle thefts and 20 per cent of the theft-larceny cases.

THE SOUND OF MUSIC. The Concert Choral at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will entertain at the American

Farm Bureau Federation conference scheduled for St. Louis in January. Under the direction of Leonard Van Camp, the Choral took first-place honors in the 11th annual international choral competition in Spittal, Austria, last year.

Chorale will sing

When the American Farm Bureau Federation holds its annual meeting in St. Louis in January, the Concert Choral of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will entertain the convention-goers. The group will perform in a vesper service at Kiel Auditorium Jan. 4.

Consisting of 60 singers, the Choral has been featured on national television. The group was heard around the world July 4 singing the patriotic cantata entitled "A Cry for Freedom" on the Sacred Heart Radio broadcasts.

The Choral, in its eleventh season, is directed by Leonard Van Camp, a nationally known conductor, lecturer, clinician and editor.

In the summer of 1974, the Choral took first place in the 11th annual international choral competition in Spittal, Austria. It was the first time that an American choir had ever placed in the competition.

Critics praised the Choral for "its sensitivity and excellent technical knowledge" and said it "had the most wonderful choral sound heard at the competition."

The Choral will again be heard on the Sacred Heart Radio broadcasts along with the University Chorus in a special Christmas program to be aired on WSIU-TV (Ch. 21) at 7 p.m. The 30-minute program, "Christmas in Colonial America," will include music edited and compiled by Van Camp.

Hispanic-American group to meet here

The Greater St. Louis Chapter of IMAGE, a national organization concerned with employment and equality of Spanish speaking people, will meet at 7:30 p.m. today in the Mexican Honorary Commission Hall, 1801 Spruce St.

Purpose of the meeting is to inform the Mexican community in the Illinois metropolitan area of the efforts being made by IMAGE to eliminate discriminatory practices of Hispanics in public employment on the local and national level. "The Voice of La Raza," a movie with Anthony Quinn which deals with discrimination of Latinos, will be shown tonight. The public is invited to attend.

20-cent hourly hike for SIUE student workers

President John S. Rendleman of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has approved an across-the-board increase of 20 cents per hour for all student workers at the university.

The pay raise will become effective Dec. 28 and will be reflected in checks received by students on Jan. 23.

Effective Jan. 1, 1976, the new federal minimum wage for student workers at SIUE will be $2.20. Students currently average $2.20 per hour.

When the raise goes into effect, the new student wage average will move to $2.40.

About 1,500 students will be affected by the increase, according to Warren Brown, acting director of student affairs at SIUE. Students are employed in almost every university unit, working as janitors, typists, file clerks and other clerical positions, as well as food service workers, librarian aids and audio-visual technicians.

The next scheduled minimum wage increase will be Jan. 1, 1977, when the minimum will become $2.30.

PARKED AUTO LOOTED

A $100 stereo, a $60 pair of speakers, an ashtray and a book on engine repairs were stolen from the car of Jerry Sadler, 221 E. 24th St., parked at his home, it was reported at 7 a.m. Wednesday.

State's attorney fight looms

A three-way bid for the Democratic nomination as Madison County state's attorney developed this week with incumbent Nicholas G. Byron opposed by William E. Johnson, a former associate circuit judge, and by Steve Maragides, a former assistant state's attorney and assistant attorney general.

Filing in the March 16 primary election opened Monday at the office of County Clerk Evelyn Bowles at Edwardsville, and will continue through Monday.

Other incumbent county officeholders, all Democrats, filed nominating petitions early this week, and as of today had no opposition.

Those filing are Circuit Clerk Willard "Butch" Portell, Auditor John L. Kraynak, Coroner Dallas Burke and Recorder of Deeds Ronald Lucas.

Johnson, of Edwardsville, and Maragides, of Madison, filed petitions in the state's attorney's race Monday after Byron had been the first to file. In a drawing held late Monday afternoon, required in instances where more than one candidate files for the same position on the same day, Johnson drew the top spot on the ballot, with Byron second and Maragides third.

In the 56th Legislative District which includes the Quad-Cities, incumbent State Senator Sam Vadablene of Edwardsville filed for renomination on the Democratic ticket. Glen T. Wilson, professor at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, filed petitions as candidate for state senator in the Republican ticket.

Filing for House seats in the 56th district were incumbents Sam W. Wolf of Granite City and Joe Lucio of Edwardsville.

Both Democrats, and Republican Everett G. Steele of Glen Carbon, Eva Giltner McDonald of Alton, a Republican, and James McPike, Democrat, also of Alton, also filed as candidates for state representatives in the 56th district.

Incumbent Congressman Melvin Price, Democrat of East St. Louis, filed petitions for re-election in the 23rd Congressional district, of which the Quad-City area is a part.

Paul Simon, Democrat of Carbondale, filed for re-election in the 24th congressional district.

All incumbent County board members of the four districts in the Quad-City area that are subject to election next year have filed for re-election on the Democratic ticket.

They include Herbert Milton,

District 22 (Granite City); Jay Maurer, District 23 (Venice); Arthur "Cooper" Moore, District 24 (Venice); and Homer Boothman, District 25 (Nameeki).

Only one of the incumbents has opposition thus far. Joe Boyer has filed as a Democratic candidate for Boothman's board membership in District 25.

A 16-year-old boy who lives in the 1700 block of Cleveland Boulevard was arrested in downtown Granite City at 11:40 p.m. Wednesday and was charged with theft and violation of curfew.

Officers alleged seeing two youths running in an alley south of the 1300 block of 19th Street who tried to flee. When officers drove into the alley, one youth was seen carrying a car stereo and running, it was reported.

The youth dropped the stereo and tried to flee, but was apprehended, police alleged. The second youth escaped.

Charles Ruffelt, Rural Route Two, Box 9106, identified the stereo as a $280 unit which had been stolen from his car, parked in the rear of 1317 Nineteenth St., just before the arrest.

Ruffelt said a tear gas pistol also was removed from his car.

Mother of GC woman dies

Mrs. Ruth Denbow, 74, of New Athens, mother of Mrs. George (Norma) Jarvis of Granite City, died Tuesday at her home.

Also surviving are two other daughters, four sons and two brothers.

Funeral services will be held at 1 p.m. Friday at an East St. Louis funeral home.

Two hurt in Rt. 157 crash

Two young men were injured when their car went out of control on Route 157 about 100 feet east of University Drive near Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and left the roadway at 12:05 a.m. Wednesday.

Hurt were the driver, Randy Richmond, 20, Hazelwood, Mo., and a passenger, Rick Servant III, 20, Florissant, Mo.

Richmond was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital with pain to his nose and his lower back and abrasions to the left side of his head.

Servant was treated for injuries to the left side of his chest and his abdomen and abrasions to his left eyebrow and left knee. He was transferred to Christian Northwest Hospital, St. Louis.

Matinee Saturday to help 'Tree of Lights'

A total of $12,000 in donations to the Salvation Army's Tree of Lights campaign to aid needy families at Christmas has turned on 480 lights on the symbolic Tree in Civic Park at Niedringhaus Avenue, E. A. "Drew" Karandjeff, drive chairman, announced today. The goal is $20,000.

To help fill the food baskets and also allow youngsters to take part in adding those less fortunate than themselves, a special children's matinee show is planned at 10:30 a.m. Saturday at the Washington Theater.

The doors will open at 10 a.m. Saturday and the admission charge will be one can of food, or the regular $1 admission fee, according to Mrs. Fanny Epstein, a Salvation Army Advisory Board member who is supervising the matinee project.

The feature film will be "Conquest of the Planet of the Apes."

With the cooperation of the Washington Theater management, the children's traditional matinee to benefit the Tree of Lights has become a popular method of collecting food items to be added to the holiday gift baskets, Mrs. Epstein said.

More than 630 applications have been received to date by the Salvation Army, each asking assistance during the coming holiday season. Food, toys and other gifts are made available from the Tree of Lights.

Cub Pack 46 gives food basket

"A Cub Scout Gives Good-will" was the theme at the Pack 46 Christmas meeting held Monday night at Nameeki School.

Cubmaster Jerry Poole led the group in the pledge to the flag, followed by a program of holiday songs directed by Den mothers.

The cubmaster announced the proceeds from a popcorn sale and reviewed the financial plans of the pack.

Each cub brought a hand-made ornament to decorate a Christmas tree and a can of food for a holiday basket which will be given to a needy family.

The Cub Scouts sang "Santa

Claus is Coming to Town" as Santa arrived and distributed gifts to the boys and their brothers and sisters. He also presented each cub a rocket kit to be used for a space derby, at the Jan. 27 pack meeting.

Den One received the "cubby award" and refreshments were served by Den Two.

Kidnap victim released

Ken J. Clayton, Springfield, Mo., summoned Madison County Sheriff's deputies to Route 3 at the Chemeto Metals Co. plant near Oldenberg Road at 8:05 p.m. Tuesday to report he had just been released by a man who took over his car and a car at gunpoint in Springfield, Mo., earlier in the evening. Clayton said he was stopped at a stop sign in Springfield when a man opened the passenger side door and entered, saying he had car trouble and no one would pick him up. The intruder then displayed a small blue revolver and ordered Clayton to drive and follow his directions, the victim related. Clayton said he drove to Route 3 in Illinois where the car broke down. The gunman then got out and fled on foot east over the railroad tracks.

The canine division of the St. Louis Police Department brought dogs to the scene and the dogs traced the gunman's path north along the railroad tracks and back to Route 3 where he was believed to have obtained another ride by hitchhiking.

Federal Bureau of Investigation agents were called and questioned the victim to obtain further details. The gunman was described as about 6 feet tall, weighing about 200 pounds and about 25 to 30 years old with a large nose and a poor complexion.

Judge Harrison ordered a presentence investigation and set sentencing for Jan. 16, unless an appeal is filed. Bond was set at $100,000.

The hearing must be held within three days of the request, if Augustine's attorney seeks a speedy hearing.

Norm Kinder will oppose Judge Calvo

Norman H. Kinder Jr., 40, a Granite City attorney, announced Tuesday that he will be a candidate for circuit judge of the Third Judicial Circuit (Madison County).

Kinder, an independent Democrat, said he will file nominating petitions for the March 16 Democratic primary on Friday.

The position currently is filled by Horace Calvo, also a Granite City attorney, who was appointed judge pending the primary and general elections. Calvo also will be on the Democratic primary ballot.

Ricco's II notified

Recent violence in and near Ricco's II Lounge, 3675 Nameoki Road, in the rear of the former Biederman's Furniture building, including a fatal stabbing and serious shooting Monday in the parking lot, has prompted Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, acting as the city's liquor control commissioner, to initiate action on the establishment's liquor license.

At 3:35 p.m. yesterday, Granite City police served notice personally in Belleville on Anthony Augustine, license holder for Ricco's II, that he has seven days within which to ask for a hearing on the license.

The establishment is to remain closed during the seven days.

The hearing must be held within three days of the request, if Augustine's attorney seeks a speedy hearing.

Girl, 17, abducted, beaten; man is held

A 17-year-old St. Louis girl was in fair condition today at St. Elizabeth Hospital after having been abducted from South St. Louis, molested and thrown from a moving car early yesterday.

Illinois State Police Trooper Edward Allen of Granite City created a suspect after the incident was reported. He is being held in the Madison County Jail in Edwardsville today in lieu of $100,000 bond.

Albert Joseph Degand Jr., 23, Calumet City, Ill., is charged with aggravated kidnapping, attempted deviate sexual conduct, unlawful restraint, aggravated battery and attempted rape.

The victim told police she was forced into a man's car near Interstate 70 in St. Louis about 1:30 a.m. Wednesday and the man drove her east on Interstate 70, while attempting to molest her.

Area health agency meet

A public meeting will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 17, at the YMCA, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue, on health service proposals affecting this region.

Alan Richter, acting executive director of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, will review plans for a new health service agency, which is to have a board of directors composed of Illinois and Missouri residents.

Officials of American National Bank, American Village Shopping Center, told police at 1:25 p.m. Monday that a woman has cashed eight checks at the bank with a total value of $1,375, which were discovered to have been stolen and forged. An East St. Louis woman is being sought.

The only immediate plan for the money is to purchase Christmas presents, daughter Kathy said.

Suffers serious gunshot wound

Dale Misukonis, 31, of 4011 Kirkpatrick Homes, is in serious condition in the intensive care unit of Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, today after suffering a gunshot wound to his head about 6:50 p.m. Wednesday in his home.

Authorities were told Mr. Misukonis had been upstairs while the rest of the family was downstairs when a gunshot was heard.

His wife, Frances, asked one of her children to summon a neighbor, who investigated and found Mr. Misukonis wounded in his bed.

Police and an ambulance were summoned and Mr. Misukonis was found lying in bed on his back with a .25 caliber automatic pistol in his right hand, which was resting on his abdomen.

The pistol and its clip were empty. Five bullets were found on a shelf nearby.

There are five children, aged five through 13. Mr. Misukonis had been depressed the last two days and had declined to join the family for dinner a short time before the gunshot was heard, it was indicated.

roadway and into the drainage ditch adjacent to it. David Mueller, operator of a grain farm of nearly 1,000 acres, said all residents of the area have alternate access routes to their property, and that there are other roads providing a convenient public link between Highways 203 and 270.

Franko Lane is in poor condition and many motorists who used it became stuck in mud in the past, he recalled, adding that he was unable to allow his children to play outdoors due to the frequent firing of bullets, usually not associated with hunting.

The road is situated north of Interstate 270 in Chouteau Township.

Differing attitudes about the closing have been voiced by various township officials.

Edward L. Burton, a resident and one of the three commissioners of the Chouteau, Nameoki and Venice Townships Levee District, noted large residents and the drainage district have had to remove such large objects as refrigerators, washing machines and auto bodies which unidentified persons had dumped along Franko.

Other Chouteau families voiced similar comments in saying they strongly favor permanent closing of the road. Among the objections is unsupervised conduct, including drinking and drug abuse, by couples and groups during times when Franko Lane was open.

$700 FIRE DAMAGE

Fire of undetermined origin resulted in $700 loss of contents in an open storage shed at the rear of Church's Fried Chicken, 3142 Nameoki Road, at 7:43 a.m. today. Firemen were at the scene 45 minutes. Contents were reported as large umbrellas used for outside eating tables.

 A precious one from us is gone,
 And a vacant place is in our home,
 That never can be filled.
 God gave us strength to bear it
 And courage to meet the blow,
 And only God knows why.
 They say time heals all sorrow,
 And helps us to forget.
 But time so far, has only proved
 How much we miss him yet.
 Our hearts ache with sadness,
 Our eyes shed many tears,
 God knows how much we miss him.
 And will through you the years.

 A precious one from us is gone,
 And a vacant place is in our home,
 That never can be filled.
 God gave us strength to bear it
 And courage to meet the blow,
 And only God knows why.
 They say time heals all sorrow,
 And helps us to forget.
 But time so far, has only proved
 How much we miss him yet.
 Our hearts ache with sadness,
 Our eyes shed many tears,
 God knows how much we miss

ANNOUNCEMENT OF INTENT TO PERFORM FLOOD ELEVATION STUDY IN THE CITY OF GRANITE CITY

The Federal Insurance Administration of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development announced today that under authority of the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968, as amended (P.L. 90-448), and the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 (P.L. 93-234), it would conduct a detailed study of the flood hazard areas in the City of Granite City, Illinois.

The study will be performed for the Federal Insurance Administration by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, St. Louis District, St. Louis, Missouri.

The purpose of this study is to examine and evaluate the flood hazard areas in the community which are developed, or which are likely to be developed, and to determine flood elevations for those areas. Flood elevations will be used by the community to carry out the flood plain management objectives of the National Flood Insurance Program. They will also be used as the basis for determining the appropriate flood insurance premium rates applicable for new buildings and their contents, as well as determining the rates to be used for the second layer of insurance on existing buildings and contents.

This announcement is intended to notify all interested persons of the commencement of this study so that they may have an opportunity of a public meeting, soon to be announced, to bring any relevant facts and technical data concerning local flood hazards to the attention of the Chief Executive Officer of the community for forwarding to the appropriate representatives of the Federal Insurance Administration.

Cross-country series to have 2 enrollment classes

A two-class format for the annual Illinois High School Association (IHSA) boys' state cross-country meet series has been approved by the board of directors and will be implemented in the next school year.

Schools with enrollments of 750 students or less will compete in the Class A meet series, while schools with enrollments of more will compete in the Class AA meet series.

Enrollments reported to the Illinois Office of Education for the last school year in September are those used for all IHSA classification purposes.

In the case of all-boy schools, the reported enrollment is doubled. And in the case of three-year schools, an additional one-third of the reported enrollment is added to the three-year figure to provide for each school's four-year count.

The IHSA will conduct next school year two-class competition for boys in cross-country, golf, basketball, wrestling and track, in addition to a five-class football playoff series.

The association conducts one-class competition for boys in soccer, gymnastics, swimming, tennis and baseball.

The Class A cross-country series will begin at the district level at 12 sites.

The top five finishing teams, and the top five individuals not members of advancing teams, at the districts will advance to four sectionals.

Again, the top five finishing teams and the top five individuals not members of advancing teams will advance and earn berths in the state final meet. That will allow for 20 teams and 20 individuals at the Class A state meet.

The Class AA Series will begin at 15 districts, with the top five teams and top five individuals not members of the advancing teams earning berths in five sectionals.

Advancing from the sectionals to the state final will be the top five finishing teams at each sectional, plus the top five individuals not members of advancing teams.

At the same time, two teams and the top five individuals not members of the advancing teams from the Chicago Public League qualifying meet will advance to the state final.

A total of 27 teams and 25 individuals will compete in the Class AA final meet.

Both state final meets are scheduled to be conducted at the same site on the same weekend, but time schedules and other administrative details have yet to be worked out.

shot-on-goal if the first eight-minute half ends in a tie, although the first half ended with only a 10-7 edge for San Francisco. For the game, the Cougars scored 14 goals and 27-18 edge in shots, but most were desperation efforts.

Near misses, however, by Greg Makowski to the left of the cross bar—and two sizzlers, one by John Stremela and one by Tim Whelan, plus a pair of "headers" by Greg Villa, could well have turned the game around.

San Francisco may have a hoodoo over Guelker. In 1966, the Dons, enroute to their only national soccer title, beat the Dons, 2-1, in a semifinal game when Guelker was head coach at SIUE.

The loss this week made the Cougars' final record 14-1-4. The Dons, who beat Brown 2-1 in triple overtime in the semifinals, finished with a 22-2 record.

Brown captured third place honors with a 2-0 victory over Howard University, the national defender, in the consolation game.

SIUE had eliminated Howard 3-1.

Pressure offense decisive in national championship game

A look back shows that the University of San Francisco Dons used one of the favorite methods of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville soccer coach Bob Guelker in setting up a 4-0 victory over the Cougars this week in the Division I championship game of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

It was the warfare tactic of the blitz—hit quickly and keep up overwhelming pressure on your opponent.

The Dons scored quickly—but not as quickly as the St. Louis Cougars scored in the first half, although the first half ended with only a 10-7 edge for San Francisco. For the game, the Cougars scored 14 goals and 27-18 edge in shots, but most were desperation efforts.

Near misses, however, by Greg Makowski to the left of the cross bar—and two sizzlers, one by John Stremela and one by Tim Whelan, plus a pair of "headers" by Greg Villa, could well have turned the game around.

Playoffs attract 242,000

Nearly a quarter million fans attended the 75 games of the second annual Illinois High School Association (IHSA) football playoff series this fall, according to figures released Tuesday.

Executive Secretary Harry Fitzhugh said a total of 242,329 paid admissions, including 35,000 for the state championship games at Hancock Stadium, Normal, has been reported to the IHSA office. In 1974, a total of 193,687 attended the 75 games.

"The enthusiasm generated throughout our state this past fall during the playoffs indicates to us that the schools and townspeople in the communities involved like the 'Squirt' Pittsburgh said, 'The increase in attendance statewide over a year ago was significant.'"

For the 70 games prior to the five title contests, 210,044 were in attendance, compared to 186,617 in 1974, an increase of 41,427.

At the state final games the weekend of Nov. 21-22, an total of 32,481 fans attended, compared to 26,070 in 1974 for an increase of 7,411.

The 1974 state final games were played in two sessions, while this year there were three sessions for the title clashes.

The average attendance at the 70 games outside the state final was 3,001. A year ago, the average attendance per game for the 70 prior to the final five was 2,409.

By classes, the average per game prior to the state title games was: Class 1A-1,645; Class 2A-2,094; Class 3A-2,492; Class 4A-3,062 and Class 5A-4,510.

Average attendance per game in the state final was 6,496. Seating capacity at Hancock Stadium is 15,000.

Total attendance for the 70 games outside the state final games by class was: Class 1A at 22,032 (an increase of 2,305 over 1974); Class 2A at 22,311 (an increase of 2,409); Class 3A at 27,596 (an increase of 2,431); Class 4A at 36,874 (an increase of 14,260); and Class 5A at 43,135 (an increase of 17,330).

Quad-City teams assigned to regionals at GC North, East St. Louis, Freeburg

In Class AA regional basketball tournaments, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville (SIUE) will compete at East St. Louis and GCHS North will enter its own regional.

Class A assignments announced this week send both Venice and Madison to the Freeburg regional tourney.

Also competing at Freeburg along with the host team and Venice and Madison will be Louisville of Brooklyn, Assumption of East St. Louis, St. Henry's of Belleville, Columbia and Dupe.

North's regional will pit together the host school and Edwardsville, Roxana and Wood River. Pairings have not been established.

Competing at East St. Louis besides the hosts and GCHS North will be Cahokia and Lincoln High of East St. Louis.

The Class A Freeburg tournament survivors will advance to the Vandalia sectional along with champions of regionals at Litchfield, Farina (LaGrave) and St. Jacob (Triad).

In Class AA, the Collinsville sectional will feature winners of regional meets at GCHS North, East St. Louis, Belleville East and Alton.

Belleville East contenders include the hosts and two other Belleville teams, West and Althoff, plus Collinsville, Mascoutah and O'Fallon.

Alton entrants are Bethalto, Hillsboro, Jerseyville (Jersey) and the host quintet.

A total of 734 schools will compete in the 1976 Illinois High School Association (IHSA) two-class boys' state basketball tournament series, an increase of eight schools over a year ago.

Assignments of teams to the regional tournament level in both Class A (for schools with enrollments of 750 or less) and Class AA (for schools with enrollments of 751 or more) were revealed this week.

All but the DeKalb sectional will enter the Class A series at 64 regionals throughout the state, while 258 will compete in 56 Class AA regionals.

Schools are classified according to the enrollment reported to the Illinois Office of Education on the last school day in September.

In the case of all-boy schools, the enrollment figure is doubled, and in the case of three-year schools an additional one-third of the reported enrollment is added to determine for classification purposes each school's four-year figure.

Last year, Venice claimed the Class A state title with a 65-46 victory over Elmhurst (Timothy Christian), while Chicago (Wendell Phillips) took the Class AA crown with a 76-48 decision over Chicago HS. (Bloom).

As noted, Venice will be one of eight teams entered in the Freeburg regional.

Timothy Christian will host its own eight-team sectional at the Class A crown in 1972 and again in 1974, is one of seven teams assigned to the Robinson Regional.

In Class AA, there are 40 sectional regionals and 24 eight-team affairs.

For Class AA, the winner of the Chicago Public League qualifying tournament will advance to the Assembly Hall for the state final tournament, while all other city, downtown and suburban teams begin tournament play at the regional level.

Women Cougars 2nd in tourney

Two firsts for the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville women's basketball Cougars occurred during the weekend in Vandalia, Ind. To start of the season, the Cougars won their initial trophy after competing in their first tournament.

Vincennes Jr. College, Danville College, Evansville College and SIUE each played two games. The Cougars won 69-62 against Danville College, Sharon Frey, 24, Jan Green, 20, and Kathy Going, 15.

For first place, the game went into five minutes of overtime and Vincennes outshot SIUE team by two baskets to win 65-59. Kathy Going scored 19, Sharon Frey 14 and Jan Green, seven.

Couch Ian Anderson said, "We played well, but in the second game we got cold—nobody could hit."

Waterway use fees debated along with issue of replacing dam, locks

Wall Street Journal—Not only does politics make for strange bedfellows, but so apparently do economics and ecology.

Railroads and environmentalists have joined forces to battle a U. S. Army Corps of Engineers proposal to replace a set of locks and a dam on the Mississippi River near Alton.

Until the railroads and environmentalists got together, there seemed to be little disagreement that the 37-year-old facility, known as Locks and Dam 26, was inadequate and structurally deficient.

The railroad-environmentalist opposition—an alliance that barge interests scorn as "a marriage of convenience"—has generated, among other things, a lawsuit, a court injunction, a seven-volume environmental impact statement and praise as well as criticism of the Corps of Engineers.

Since barges primarily carry bulk items such as grain, petroleum, bulk chemicals and coal, farmers' marketing groups and utilities generally favor the replacement project.

Some shippers, however, back the environmentalist-railroad team.

The Alton controversy is reheating a long-running argument over national waterways policy.

Railroads argue they suffer unfairly from waterways projects.

The heavily taxed roads charge that barge lines get a "free ride," and they have unsuccessfully campaigned for fees for use of the waterways.

F. M. Dowling, director of market research for the Missouri Pacific Railroad, claims railroads will have to raise rates to make up for loss of cargo if more freight is diverted to Mississippi River barges.

"The Corps of Engineers admits that its proposal will deprive the railroads of $32 million annually in desperately needed revenue," Dowling says. "It would destroy over 35,000 potential rail jobs," he adds.

Barge operators reply that the present locks and dam facility already creates a bottleneck on the upper Mississippi system, which includes the Illinois River and the Mississippi River north of Cairo, Ill.

Barges incur costly delays of up to 48 hours at Locks and Dam 26, operators contend, and they predict the delays will lengthen as tonnage increases.

In Washington, the General Accounting Office issued a report on the inland waterways that estimated that the delays at the Alton facility cost the barge industry nearly $6 million in 1974.

Waterway interests argue that barges offer greater eficiency, fuel advantages and lower rates than railroads.

The railroads' "opposition to the replacement of Lock 26 is based on pure greed," says John W. Lambert, president and chairman of a St. Paul, Minn., barge company.

"The propaganda campaign for them isn't focused on Lock 26 but on the destruction of competition. Railroads have always harbored a fetish toward transportation monopoly," he charges.

The present Locks and Dam 26 was opened to river traffic in 1938.

The facility has two locks, the main one 110 feet wide and 600 feet long and the auxiliary lock 110 feet by 360 feet.

According to the Corps of Engineers, the structure, has a history of problems associated with its sand and gravel foundation and shifting lock walls.

After considering alternatives, including expansion and rehabilitation of the present site, the Corps settled on a replacement structure downstream.

According to the Corps' calculations, rehabilitation would cost $360 million and take eight to 10 years to complete, including closing down the locks, and the river, for as long as three years.

"It would result in a patchwork solution, much like chrome-plating a Model T," Col. Thorwald Peterson, St. Louis District engineer, says.

A replacement structure, the Corps estimates, would cost about $425 million, based on 1974 prices. A new facility would include two 110-foot-by-1,200-foot locks.

Shipping lanes would be rerouted from time to time during construction, but the river would remain open.

As the controversy swirls, even basic facts become blurred.

The railroads and environmentalists maintain that the Corps' plan for replacing the Alton facility and increasing its capacity includes deepening the navigation channel to 12 feet from nine feet.

Although the Corps denies it has such plans at this time, the railroads and environmentalists have yet to be convinced.

The key is the phrase "at this time," John Cunningham, a spokesman for the environmentalist Sierra Club, says. "If they aren't considering it, they ought to say so."

The Association of Western Railroads compares the lock and dam system of the upper Mississippi to a chain—its strength is limited by its weakest link.

Increasing the Alton facility's capacity through the replacement project to 100 million tons annually from the current practical capacity of 46.5 million is relatively useless if other segments of the system have significantly less capacity, the group argues.

Thus, the railroads insist, the Corps is creating the rationale for a massive navigation works program along the entire upper Mississippi at a cost exceeding $3 billion.

Also in dispute is how much tonnage the present Locks and Dam 26 can accommodate. Railroads and other opponents of the replacement proposal claim a significant increase is possible through such modifications as better scheduling.

Proponents of the project estimate that 55 million to 60 million tons of cargo will pass through the Alton facility this year—though at the cost of frequent delays—and they forecast traffic of 70.1 million tons in 1980 and 127.1 million in 2000.

On Aug. 6, 1974, the day before the Corps was to open bids for construction of the Alton project, 21 Western railroads, the Sierra Club and the Izaak Walton League (another environmental group) filed lawsuits seeking an injunction against construction of the replacement project.

In granting the injunction, Federal District Judge Charles R. Richey in Washington, D. C., wrote that although the Corps had denied it was undertaking a system-wide project, "the record is replete with contrary indications."

Judge Richey also accepted opponents' arguments that the Corps needs the specific consent of Congress for the replacement, but hasn't obtained it, and that the Corps' assessment of environmental and economic impact was inadequate.

Judge Richey's decision sent the Corps back to the drawing boards.

Last summer, the Corps submitted a vastly enlarged seven-volume, 3,086-page environmental impact statement.

Even that effort failed to mollify opponents and, indeed, raised new criticisms.

"It's as if they went into the library and pulled out everything connected with the subject. It's padded with extraneous stuff," says Patricia S. Record, a Sierra Club official.

What environmentalists consider the inadequacies of the statement are minor compared with the alleged effects of the Corps' current activities, however.

"There's one heck of a lot of damage going on now" from dredging and other maintenance needed to preserve the navigation channel, Mr. Cunningham says.

For example, dredging material generally is dumped in the backwaters, which environmentalists consider the productive area of a river, where fish, wildlife and benthic organisms thrive. Benthic organisms—snails, worms and other tiny creatures that live in the mud—"aren't very sexy," Mrs. Record says, but "they're the basis of a food chain."

The various Corps activities are turning the river into a "sterile ditch for barges," draining it away from other uses such as recreation, environmentalists maintain.

"We feel it should be our river, too," Mr. Cunningham says.

In any event, construction can't begin until Judge Richey approves the Corps' environmental statement and Congress authorizes the project.

The whole question of whether waterway shippers should pay operation and maintenance expenses of inland waterways—costs currently borne by taxpayers—is a recurring theme in the Locks and Dam 26 replacement debate.

Railroads, which paid about $500 million in property taxes in 1974 and must raise capital to maintain their rights of way, favor user fees by which barge operators would pay part, if not all of waterway costs.

Barge owners also don't pay property taxes on their barges, which are considered to have a floating domicile; railroads, on the other hand pay taxes on equipment.

The cry about user fees is dragging a red herring into the locks and dam project, contends Harry R. Morley Jr., executive vice president of the St. Louis Regional Commerce and Growth Association, which supports the project.

The issue of user fees is a matter for national policy and shouldn't delay construction, Morley adds.

The Corps of Engineers generally agrees.

"If Congress decides to set user fees, that's fine. We don't feel it should be an issue," a Corps spokesman says, stressing, "We aren't married to any client."

There are indications, however, that the controversy is causing discord within the Corps.

Recently the Army Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors, which oversees Corps activities nationwide, said it will review the project.

It adds that it hasn't any "preconceived notions" as to the best solution.

A recent Department of Transportation report on the Alton Project indicates the controversy is being heated.

Recognizing that "some engineering action is required to maintain" present capacity, the report also noted that any increase in waterway capacity without recovery of the cost from water carriers would increase federal subsidies to that transportation mode, "contrary to a basic principle of our national transportation policy."

Some observers think the railroads eventually may lose the battle over construction of Locks and Dam 26 but win the war with imposition of user fees for barges.

LISTENING INTENTLY to questions during a briefing on the U.S. Department of Transportation's procedures in studying proposals for a new St. Louis area airport are Mrs. Judith Connor, DOT assistant secretary for environment, safety and consumer affairs, and Admiral Russell Waesche, assistant to William T. Coleman Jr., U.S. secretary of Transportation. The briefing was held last week in St. Louis in preparation for a public hearing on the proposed new Illinois airport Thursday, Dec. 18, at the Bel Air Hilton in St. Louis. (Press-Record Photo)

SALES SERVICE RENTALS

Patricia D. Lathrop and Albert Stevens III wed

Candlelight illuminated the sanctuary of the Nameoki United Methodist Church for the wedding of Miss Patricia D. Lathrop and Albert Stevens III on Nov. 22.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard D. Lathrop, 2500 Pine St. Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lee Stevens Sr., reside at 2437 State St.

Mrs. June Branding sang "With This Ring," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Debbie Bennett at the organ.

The Rev. William Dale Fester and the Rev. David Maxton, the latter pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock in the evening.

For her wedding, the former Miss Lathrop chose a full-length silk peau de soie gown fashioned with an empire waist, marked with a velvet ribbon and a tucked organza yoke.

Re-embroidered lace and pearls accented the yoke, high neckline and long sleeves featuring wide cuffs fastened with a row of satin buttons. The trimming was repeated on the train.

She wore a Juliet cap to secure a chapel-length illusion veil, bordered with a delicate lace etched with pearls.

The bridal bouquet consisted of white rosebuds, centered with a white orchid.

Miss Sherri Holt was maid of honor and Miss Paula Krieschok and Mrs. Cindy Bailey, a sister of the bride, served as bridesmaids.

They selected royal blue double knit gowns enhanced with a re-embroidered lace ruffling and wore Juliet caps to match their attire.

Each carried a nosegay of blue carnations and roses.

The flower girls, Cathy Lathrop, a sister of the bride, and Pam Bailey, the bride's niece, were gown in white dresses with blue flocked flowers. Both wore bonnets to match their frocks and held a baskets of rose petals.

Women's concerns—inflation, government, crime, energy

For the second consecutive year, the three national issues of most concern to the American woman are (1) the economy, (2) confidence in government, and (3) crime, according to the second annual national issues poll conducted by the 40,000-member National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association, headquartered in St. Louis.

More than 23,000 American women in 39 states and the District of Columbia were polled in the nation's beauty salons this fall.

While sitting in the salon waiting rooms and under dryers, American women rated 10 listed subjects in order of preference from 1 to 10.

The American woman who frequents the beauty salon rated her first three preferences in the same order as she did in the national association's first poll conducted in 1974.

The seven other subjects named on the poll, and the order in which the American woman listed these items, are: (4) energy; (5) taxes; (6) too many increases in welfare programs; (7) disarmament; (8) protection of the environment; (9) influence and effect of labor unions; (10) influence and effect of news media.

The number 4 and 5 preferences switched places from last year, when "taxes" received the number 4 spot and "energy" was number 5.

"Too many increases in welfare programs," a new item added to this year's poll, received the number 6 spot held by "protection of privacy" last year.

"Disarmament," the number 7 item, moved up from number 8, and "protection of environment" switched from number 7 to number 8.

The last two rated items were new items of interest added to this year's poll. The two, which received the least attention by America's women, replaced "national health insurance" and "conditional amnesty for American draft evaders," the least two rated items on last fall's poll.

Mrs. Ronnie McCoy of Ft. Worth, Tex., president of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association, said that the poll was conducted again "to let legislators in Washington know what the women of America think concerning today's issues."

Results were sent to President Gerald R. Ford and members of the U. S. Senate and House of Representatives.

The 23,000 national issue questionnaires tallied by the association were ranked and totaled according to each woman's preference.

Pres. Ford received the most attention from the nation's women in a write-in presidential preference poll conducted by the NHCA.

Following Mr. Ford's 4,337 write-in votes (30 per cent) were the following:

Undecided — 2,783 votes (19 per cent); Ronald Reagan — 2,227 votes (15 per cent); Alabama Gov. George Wallace — 1,068 votes (7 per cent).

Sen. Edward Kennedy — 992 votes (6 per cent); Sen. Hubert Humphrey — 397 votes (3 per cent); Sen. Henry Jackson — 283 votes (3 per cent).

Also, 234 votes were written in for "a Democrat," and 211 votes were written in for "a Republican."

Other persons receiving over 100 votes were: Sen. Barry Goldwater — 164; Sargent Shriver — 148; Rep. Morris Udall — 140; and Vice-President Nelson Rockefeller — 114 votes.

There were 1,340 votes for other possible candidates. Others who received more than 10 votes were:

Sen. Edmund Muskie — 79; Sen. Frank Church — 74; Sen. Birch Bayh — 73; Jimmy Carter — 52; Rep. Barbara Jordan — 41; Richard Nixon — 37; Sen. Howard Baker — 36; Sen. Lloyd Bentsen — 34; Florida Gov. Reubin Askew — 30; John Connally — 30; Sen. Charles Percy — 26; Terry Sanford — 22; New Hampshire Gov. Meldrim Thompson, Jr. — 21; Evert Kniewel — 18; Sen. George McGovern — 15; Shirley Temple Black — 13; California Gov. Jerry Brown — 12; Walter Cronkite — 12; and Sen. Lowell Weicker — 12.

A burglar apparently was scared away from Granite City Dodge, 1911 Madison Ave., when police discovered a break in at the auto agency while on patrol at 4 a.m. Sunday. A number of items removed from inside and left in the parking area were recovered. An inventory is being compiled to determine what has been taken. Found outside the premises were three adding machines, a wall heater, television and an eight-track stereo and speakers. A rear window had been broken to gain entry and alarm wires were pulled loose, police said.

Colonial Bank stock sale completed

Paul H. Lichtenberger, chairman of the Colonial Bank of Granite City — currently in organization — has announced that sale of stock in the new bank has been completed. Subscriptions have been collected in full and the $1,000,000 proceeds have been paid to the escrow agent, the First Granite City National Bank. The funds have been invested in United States treasury bills, pending issuance of the charter by the commissioner of banks and trust companies of Illinois. "We expect to announce shortly the employment of an executive officer and will proceed with the clearing of the site preparatory to locating temporary quarters on the property at the intersection of Pontoon and Maryville Roads," Lichtenberger continued. "The building will be fully equipped, including drive-in facilities, and we will be able to offer full banking service to our customers and friends."

"One of the directors elected at the subscribers' meeting held on Nov. 7, Joseph V. Clark, has failed to qualify and his seat on the board has been declared vacant. This vacancy will be filled at a special meeting of stockholders to be held at a future date."

"The remaining requirements of the commissioner and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation are in the process of completion and we are looking forward to receiving our charter in the not too distant future."

ICC order appealed

An Illinois Commerce Commission ruling requiring Granite City to rebuild a section of roadway approaching the West Pontoon railroad tracks has been appealed to the Third Circuit Court by City Attorney George Filcoff.

The appeal was authorized by the City Council after the ICC turned down a petition for review that was filed after a lengthy ICC order instructed three railroads using the tracks at West Pontoon Road to reduce speeds, revise gate-operating mechanisms and to make other safety improvements at the grade crossing. Council members decided to appeal the ruling after Filcoff noted that the ICC provided for payment of up to $10,000 each in state funds to the railroads for the revisions they were ordered to make, but required Granite City to make the roadway repairs at its own expense.

The order would require Granite City to revise the grade of the approach to the railroad tracks. No estimate of the cost has yet been made. Revision of track circuits operating the gates at revised speeds by the Norfolk & Western, Penn Central and Illinois Central Gulf railroads also was ordered. The ICC ruling resulted from a public hearing in Springfield May 23 after petitions were filed in behalf of residents living in the neighborhood of the West Pontoon crossing, and motorists using the crossing frequently, after two separate instances in which motorists were killed while driving around lowered gates, apparently in the belief that the signals were malfunctioning.

Rule no discrimination against woman professor

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) has determined there is no evidence of sex discrimination in the complaint of Gertraude Wittig against Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Kenneth A. Mines, regional director of the Office of Civil Rights of HEW, says in a letter to SUE President John S. Rendleman, "The results of the investigation show there is no reasonable cause to believe that sex was a factor in any of the allegations made in the complaint."

A professor in the department of biological sciences of the SIUE School of Science and Technology, Miss Wittig alleged she had been discriminated against in promotion, salary, work assignments, participation in federally-sponsored training programs and the university's grievance procedures. Director Mines said the regional office of the HEW made the following specific determinations regarding her allegations:

"No one was promoted to the rank of professor the first year the complaint was considered for a promotion."

"Another woman was the only person promoted to professor the second year the complaint was considered for a promotion."

"The complainant's salary is higher than that of three full-time professors who are males."

"She is the second highest paid associate professor in the biological sciences department."

"General biology courses are taught in rotation and higher level courses are assigned to specialists according to their area of concentration."

"Fiscal Year 1975 evidence indicates that the complainant received more research funds than anyone, else in her department. In fiscal 1974, she ranked seventh out of 15 faculty who received research allocations."

"The complainant held up the grievance process when she objected to the procedures."

Mines said an on-site review was conducted by HEW at the university the week of Dec. 18, 1974, to investigate the allegations. A review of the case has been under way since that time.

John Paul Davis, general counsel and executive assistant to Dr. Rendleman, said the university conducted five internal administrative reviews of evidence pertinent to Miss Wittig's allegations even though she refused any formal grievance procedure. "We are pleased with HEW's findings in this matter, especially since they bear out the assessments which had been made in the five separate internal reviews," Davis said.

Prof. Wittig's complaint to the HEW was filed in June 1974. She charged "failure to be promoted, failure to be paid equal salary, failure to receive an appropriate and proper work assignment commensurate with my ability and affording me equal career opportunity, discriminatory impact of federally sponsored training programs, failure to review my internal complaint informally, and suspension of my formal internal grievance."

No reason to continue tolerating violence-prone lounge

Brutal violence occurring in the vicinity of the Rico's II Lounge on Namekoi Road has led to continuing deterioration of what should be a level of public support or tolerance may have existed originally.

There has been a groundswell of favorable reaction this week to the decision to order the establishment closed. Rico's II has been attracting more Missouri than Illinoisans, observation indicates, and many have shown no respect for this community or its residents.

Life styles and behavioral standards vary, and perhaps a theoretical case could be made for a night club catering to those aged 19 and in their 20s. But the regular pattern of not only fist fights but knifings and shootings casts serious doubt about either the concept or the way the operation has been administered.

Success in ousting unruly patrons means little if law violations and bloodshed are to take place in the parking lot, frightening and endangering innocent shoppers, moviegoers and passersby.

Early this week, a 23-year-old man was wounded fatally and a 22-year-old received a puncture wound that threatened to take his life as well. A third man also was injured. Rather than being an isolated episode, such an occurrence was virtually predictable, in view of the frequency of past disorders and injuries.

The enterprise has long since worn out its welcome here.

The tragedy should serve as a clear warning to any other establishments that may let the pattern of conduct exceed reasonable bounds. If they persist, they also should lose their privilege to operate a governmentally-licensed business.

Inappropriate rulings on key First Amendment issues

Press-Record Washington Bureau—Recent events again have raised a serious confrontation between news media protection by the First Amendment to the Constitution and the legal profession, which seeks to ensure the impartial justice guaranteed Americans in the Sixth Amendment.

In one case, U. S. Supreme Court Justice Harry Blackmun and the Nebraska Supreme Court said that the press cannot publish a confession and other evidence in a mass murder trial — after the information had been disclosed at a public hearing.

American tradition does not contemplate restraint of speech before a trial, but in another case, the 5th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Atlanta ordered a new trial for William A. H. Williams who had been convicted on charges of extortion after he abused Editor Reg. Murphy. Among other things, the court held that publicity had prejudiced Williams' rights.

The common and troublesome element in both of these cases is the belief that the smattering of information a prospective juror gets before a trial outweighs the detailed volume of information that he gets throughout a trial.

It's an insult to the intelligence of Americans to insist that they had to see nothing and know nothing in order to be able to make a fair evaluation of facts.

Outstanding response to United Way

To the Editor:

The entire Quad-City community is to be congratulated on the success of the 1975 United Way campaign recently completed.

Nineteen seventy-five was marked by nationwide recession leading to a depressed local economy.

Reduced production of local industries forecast a gloomy employment picture. Demands for goods and services were generally down although costs continued high.

The general climate thus created was certainly not conducive to liberal attitudes of giving.

In the face of these adverse conditions and pessimistic predictions, it was necessary to establish a United Way campaign goal of $430,000, the highest drive target in the history of the community.

In addition, it was pointed out early in the campaign that a minimum of $442,000 in total drive efforts was necessary to fund current agency programs and services were not to be curtailed.

It seems that, when the outlook is most bleak and dark, the good citizens of our community join hands in their efforts to overcome the common bond.

I am happy to report that all campaign divisions except two equalled or surpassed division accomplishments of one year ago.

Of the two that did not, the individual short-fall was relatively small and there is the possibility that late returns will yet achieve divisional goals.

As of Dec. 1, total contributions and pledges were $444,000.

My sincere thanks to the campaign division chairmen and women and their small army of volunteer workers, and to all the citizens—corporate as well as private—of the communities of Granite City, Madison, Venice and Ponton Beach for their outstanding performance in this most difficult year.

My thanks also to the Granite City Press-Record for their excellent reporting and coverage of the 1975 United Way campaign. The amount of publicity and space devoted to this annual community effort added significantly to the overall success of the campaign.

Glad Press-Record fights for justice

To the Editor:

For many years I was a resident of Granite City and still have the pleasure of getting your newspaper.

It is heartening to know you still support justice. I am referring to your article on the organization that calls itself OATH. (Organization for Advancement of the Handicapped).

I find it hard to believe those people can turn a profit on the misfortune of the retarded and handicapped.

Is it possible they, the members of the board, borrowed money to buy a building and then got the money from public funds to pay the loan back?

Now they would have a building almost free and clear to sell or rent as they wish, all in the name of charity.

Doesn't your great state of Illinois have laws to stop such outfits that operate in the name of charity?

I hope they are weeded out and that justice is done.

Keep fighting this kind of corruption and your newspaper will remain great.

Urge gifts to aid homeless animals

To the Editor:

All of us at the Animal Protective Association are wishing the public a most joyful Christmas and a new year filled with happiness.

You the readers hold a very special place in our hearts because of the kind, compassionate concern you have shown for the homeless animals at our shelter.

Because of help from wonderful people like you, many hungry, abandoned animals have been fed, cared for and given a chance to live.

We wish it were possible to tell you how much real good the donations that we've received have done. You would have to be at the shelter daily and see the pitiful, neglected condition in which many of the animals arrive to fully appreciate how well the donations are spent.

That is what we see every day that makes us thank God for the friends like you who have helped us give these unfortunate animals a chance to live.

We realize that you readers will be asked to give a donation to many deserving charities during the Christmas season. We also are all too aware that it is becoming harder for everyone to make ends meet, because of the high cost of living today.

But please, if it is possible, won't you remember the many homeless animals at the shelter this Christmas? You don't know how small, would be used so well and most appreciated.

The price of a Christmas card will feed a hungry dog and cat on Christmas Day. The cost of a package of gift wrap could buy the medicine to save a life.

May God bless you always for your kindness to His creatures. Those wishing to help may contact:

Norma Ruhl, 2439 Lincoln Ave., 877-0904 or Ruth Mitchell, 2442 E. 24th St., 877-1269.

Don't replace policemen with cameras

To the Editor:

I would like to echo the feelings of a majority of people in the City of Madison concerning our fine police department.

These men are dedicated and responsible law enforcement officials whose job it is to protect the citizens from criminal abuse.

However, if the city administration continues to act in an irresponsible manner by continuing to lay off our police personnel, where does this leave the law abiding citizen?

The answer is clear. Crime will steadily rise and there will be no effective deterrent to prevent such a threatening challenge to our citizens.

Electronic cameras which would cost the taxpayers thousands of dollars in layoffs — are no substitutes for well-trained police officers.

I hope the city administration will consider other alternatives.

Much head not much light in new Illinois school campaign so far

By BILL WINTER

The party's getting rough. Statewide party politics in Illinois, that is. And it got even rougher this week when Gov. Walker announced his reform.

The March 16 Democratic primary for governor will pit together the incumbent, Daniel Walker, and a strong opponent, Secretary of State Michael Howlett.

As he did in 1972 when he upset Lieutenant Governor Paul Simon of this state legislative district in the gubernatorial primary, Independent Gov. Walker is seeking to depict his political opponents as puppets of Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago.

Along with his hope of garnering re-election as governor, Mr. Walker is seeking delegate support for the Presidential nomination.

In addition to his opposition to Mayor Daley and Secretary Howlett, Walker also chose U. S. Senator Adlai E. Stevenson III as his target during the period when he appeared in Sen. Stevenson might be backed by Mayor Daley as a "favorite son" Presidential candidate.

The senator later said he won't campaign for the White House.

An illustration of how Gov. Walker sought to focus a political barrage against Mr. Stevenson, he issued a press release Nov. 17 criticizing the federal legislator for not taking a stand on a state issue—the degree of funding of public schools.

The controversial state school issue was described by Gov. Walker as the factor that would either permit a balanced budget or cause a tax increase in Illinois.

Some school officials said this was an oversimplification and pointed out that basic funding had been promised and voted. Later, after they had changed their spending pattern, the formula was altered by the governor, they contend.

Walker succeeded in avoiding a legislative override of his school aid cutback.

The State Education Board is paying districts according to the full funding level and may ask the General Assembly next spring (after March 18) to put the issue into a referendum on the schoolhouse financial pot.

The statement by Gov. Walker Nov. 17 follows:

"I am sending you a copy of Sen. Stevenson's reply to a letter I sent asking him to support my position on school aid. He has refused to speak out against a statewide tax increase in Illinois. He refused."

"You cut through the double-talk, two distinct facts emerge: Sen. Stevenson refused to say he is against a statewide tax increase. He refused to support my position on school aid."

"Sen. Stevenson is afraid he will offend Mayor Daley."

"Sen. Stevenson was quick to tell officials of New York to cut taxes and lighten their belts. But he refused to tell to Mayor Daley. He was afraid to take those same positions in his home state."

"He proposed a plan for borrowing—ignoring that when you borrow, you must pay back. But he has no plan to repay the borrowed money."

"Sen. Stevenson's proposal is the New York policy under a different name, a policy of borrowing."

"This policy produced New York's fiscal disaster. Sen. Stevenson is advising Illinois to go that route."

"I don't want to go that route and won't go that route."

"An obvious pattern of action by Sen. Stevenson has emerged. Mayor Daley said Stevenson should run for President. In return, Sen. Stevenson supports Mayor Daley's policies."

"First, Sen. Stevenson was against Mayor Daley's plan for the Crossstown Expressway, regardless of the cost to thousands of people in the Crossstown corridor."

"Now he is supporting Mayor Daley on overspending, regardless of what it costs in tax increases."

"Stevenson is paying his dues to the Daley Club," Gov. Walker concluded in the unusually tough-sounding statement.

The governor says the senator would say as follows on Nov. 10:

"Dear Dan; I am flattered by your request for my help and agree that the state should adequately fund elementary and secondary education while avoiding a tax increase."

"My familiarity with the school aid controversy is limited to press reports, and I doubt whether you would want me to rely on those reports alone in making a judgment."

"My recent experience with New York City's financial problems renews my appreciation of the sound fiscal policies followed in Illinois when I was its state treasurer."

"But Illinois cash management policies have not changed. On occasions, there was concern about the state going broke when I was state treasurer. But I never had less than a billion dollars in state funds to invest."

"The concern always centered on only one of the many funds in the state treasury: the General Revenue Fund," Sen. Stevenson told the governor.

"The state should utilize balances in all its funds to avoid short-term cash flow problems and tax increases."

"Excess funds in the treasury can be invested to earn interest, but that is not their best use. The government should collect only those taxes that are essential to pay for needed services and a reasonable cushion for no more."

"A recent state treasurer report indicates that the state's fund balances are healthy. You might want to take a hard look at my proposal for a Fiscal Fund Transfer Board which was introduced in the legislature at my suggestion during my term as state treasurer."

"The board could transfer and re-transfer fund balances so surplus cash resources could be utilized when and where needed without impairing the fund structure."

"My guess is that such a system could fund the state's education requirements until state revenues caught up with a higher level of economic activity. This might be just the moment to make such a reform in the legislature."

Mr. Stevenson continued:

"If you feel a more active role on my part is called for, I suggest you first check with the legislative leaders. If they agree, I will set aside as much time as I can to meet with the Senate deputies from my district."

"I know from my days in the state legislature that there is nothing more efficacious than mediators from Washington, so I think it is important that the legislature be playing an active role."

"If they concur, I would first ask Charles Woodford, my senatorial colleague, to head a task force to examine the state's finances and see if there is some way the state can meet its obligations to fund education without making use of existing resources or by cutting back in other areas."

"The objective examination of state finances, is essential. Such a task force would include key legislators from both major parties and institutional officers who are directly concerned with the state's finances, the treasurer and the comptroller."

"There has been too little cooperative effort in the past. Without it, no one can be certain of the results about the state's finances."

"With your cooperation, such a task force should be able to come up with the necessary information before the vote."

"Finally, I should point out that the state's failure to fund elementary and secondary education shifts the responsibility to local taxpayers."

"Property taxes are already too high and are regressive. I would want to examine every means of avoiding increased property taxes before supporting your position."

"If upon checking with the joint leadership you feel such a role by me would be helpful, let me know."

"I would be glad to do what I can, though the duties in Washington are large, and look forward to hearing from you."

"I am not releasing this letter to the press, but you are free to do so," he concluded.

Gov. Walker did release the letter and criticized Sen. Stevenson as unresponsive.

A different view of the state school aid debate was taken by Gerald L. Shabro, chairman of the Senate Task Force on the Full Funding of Illinois Schools.

Critical of Gov. Walker's role, Shabro wrote editors as follows:

"There are many opinions concerning what is the real issue before the Illinois General Assembly. I will share my view with you."

"Gov. Walker's education votes badly damaged reforms seeking new and better ways of financing Illinois public schools, the aim being to equalize educational opportunities for all of our school children."

"Whether they be in an affluent school district or a poor one."

"The basic change in nationalwide school support is being made by moving from local property taxes as the major source of revenue and relying more on state funds which are raised and distributed on a statewide basis."

"In fact, both the Illinois state funds its right to tax to maintain a system of public schools in its obligation to nurture intelligent citizens and to promote the social order and peace of society."

"A state commonly expresses its educational financing policy through legislation enacted by its state legislature. These concepts were reinforced by the Illinois Constitution of 1970 which gives the state the primary responsibility of financing the public schools."

"The Illinois state income tax were passed on the avowed promise that these tax revenues would help children's educational needs, thus alleviating the overburdened real estate taxpayers from paying for the state's obligation."

"For these reasons, the legislature should exercise their leadership and address themselves to making this adjustment in a $10 billion budget. Then everyone's needs can be met."

"The legislators will be fiscally responsible and will not have to consider any tax increase. And the needs of our children can be met."

"Clearly, if the state does not assume its responsibility, with inflationary costs, the governor's votes could cause our school children to be in the future by increased local real estate taxes, both in the suburbs and Downstate."

"Although it is well known as forcing higher real estate taxes, legislators did decide against overriding the governor."

"The political infighting heated up further when the Daley-led state Democratic body decided to state Mr. Howlett for governor. Mr. Walker did not try for endorsement and denounced both the process and the man who accepted party endorsement."

"The governor a few days ago detached his chief advisor with the necessary Green services as campaign manager."

"Mr. Walker for Governor and the Green services as campaign manager."

"Mr. Walker for Governor and the Green services as campaign manager."

"Mr. Walker for Governor and the Green services as campaign manager."

Democrats" this week that "the action of the Daley forces in overriding $134,000,000 of reduction votes made by Gov. Walker is another example of the harm that Mayor Daley is now doing to the Democratic party statewide."

"We feel his recent actions demonstrate that he has no concern for the election of Democrats outside of Cook County," Green related.

"He does not care that his actions could very well force the state's position of raising the income tax, which would then be blamed upon the Democratic Party."

"This does not hurt him in his overwhelmingly Democratic area. However, elsewhere in Illinois, where for the first time we have been electing Democrats to the legislature, to county boards and to county offices, the effect would be disastrous."

"All the Democratic gains that have been so painstakingly achieved during the past year would be eliminated overnight."

"Democrats would have to constantly answer the charge by Republicans that we were the tax-increase party."

"We feel that this is a critical situation and we urge our constituents of this matter," Green said.

"Regular" Democrats counter by saying that Gov. Walker gave elections in 1972 by blaming the Republican incumbent, Richard B. Ogilvie, for signing the state's first income tax law.

While living up to anti-taxation pledges on the surface, "regulars" assert, Gov. Walker has helped the state build up all of the big reserve provided by the new income tax, putting it once again on the edge of fiscal insolvency.

Mayor Daley, "Mr. Democrat" and perhaps the last of the nation's big city political bosses, is so unimpressed by the current Democratic governor's performance that he remarked a short time ago that the state would have been better off if Republican Ogilvie had been re-elected.

All of which prompted Green and de Grazia to write their joint letter to Daley and urge in hard-hitting fashion that he resign his party position.

Their comments to Mayor Daley follow:

"Dear Chairman Daley:

"As loyal Democrats we are concerned about the steady deterioration of your leadership as chairman of the Democratic central committee of Cook County."

"Time and again, you have placed yourself and the well being of your cronies above the welfare of the party and the principles of the Democratic Party."

"Your recent statement that a Republican, Richard Ogilvie, should have been elected governor over a Democrat, Dan Walker, is only the latest exhibition of actions repugnant to all loyal, dedicated Democrats."

"In the many years you have been chairman, rumors of deals between you and Republican candidates have been widespread. However, not until your recent public statement did we give them credence."

"Your silence regarding State Democratic Chairman John Touhy's refusal to state he would support the winner of the Illinois gubernatorial primary is unconscionable."

"In addition to these over-polling reasons, we point to the following:

"In 1972, Democratic ward committeemen, supported by Nixon and Ogilvie, including the distribution of sample ballots urging Nixon's election."

"Yet, you did not disavow, rebuke, let alone take disciplinary action against these disloyal committeemen."

"Your vicious attack against Bill Singer, calling him a Goebbels, was a slur against all decent thinking people."

"Your Congressional representation map designed to remove unobscured incumbent Democratic congressmen such as Tim Hall and Abner Mikva was indefensible."

"Your primary lockout proposal to disenfranchise thousands of primary voters was the height of arrogance."

"Your actions prior to and during the last national nominating conventions were a disgrace to Democrats and irre

Sanitation technology new field of study at SIUE

Remember Norton on the old "Honeymooners" television series? He was the guy who always cracked jokes about working in the sewer.

Times have changed since then. Sewers now run into highly technical wastewater treatment plants operated by trained professionals.

Students seriously interested in the future of the world and the maintenance of a quality environment are enrolled in a unique program at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Sanitation technology, one of only a few such programs in the nation, is training students to solve present-day problems in future-oriented ways.

According to Harlan Bengtson, assistant professor in engineering and technology at SIUE, sanitation technology is a growing field that offers students an opportunity to train in a career that is relevant to today's problems.

To fill the urgent need for trained sanitation technologists, SIUE is offering night courses that make it possible for students to get a degree even if they work every day. This is an advantage for Bengtson's students since almost half of them are, or have been, employed in some area of sanitation technology.

Jim Blaine of Alton, a senior at SIUE, is employed in the plant maintenance area of the Alton sewage treatment plant. Blaine originally planned to go into electrical engineering but chose sanitation technology instead. He says his training helped him get his job.

Blaine, who wants to be a wastewater plant supervisor, already has his Class Four state certification for wastewater plant operators. By February, he will have enough experience and education to take his Class Two certification exam.

In Illinois, certification is given by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency. The EPA, through testing and interviews, certifies various levels of competency in wastewater plant operators. Higher education and work experience are requirements for higher certifications.

Along with his full-time job at the Alton sewage treatment plant, Blaine is also a full-time student carrying 12 hours. He goes to school four nights and two days a week. Tuesdays and Thursdays, his two days off from work, are spent picking up some extra courses. He will graduate in about a year and a half.

Like many other evening students, Blaine laments the loss of typical family life. But he has one advantage that many students don't have. His wife, Jane, is close by since she is a graduate assistant in the School of Business at SIUE.

Even though many students have experience in areas of sanitation technology before entering the program, students only need to pass SIUE admission requirements to begin required coursework for this B.S. degree. However, students should prepare themselves for these highly technical classes by studying biology, chemistry, physical sciences and mathematics.

Jonathan Smith II of St. Louis gained much of his background experience while he worked in the materials lab at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton. Smith now works for Alcoa as a chemist in the chemical and ceramics division and can only attend classes at night.

As a sanitation technology student, Smith has a special interest in the problems of air pollution. His interest was spawned while at Wright-Patterson.

"We were working with a rather fine particulate matter, and we developed air pollution problems," Smith said. "Our experiences in trying to handle this material helped me decide to expand my background and go into the field."

"I am very interested in the problems of air pollution and would like to work in a mobile air monitoring unit, he continued. "But I want to be aware of the entire picture of air pollution, not only in the air but also in the water and soil."

Like many others in the program, Smith likes the outdoors. "In this work I can get outside and be an on-the-spot checker. I would also like to get into the laboratory and management parts of sanitation technology," he said.

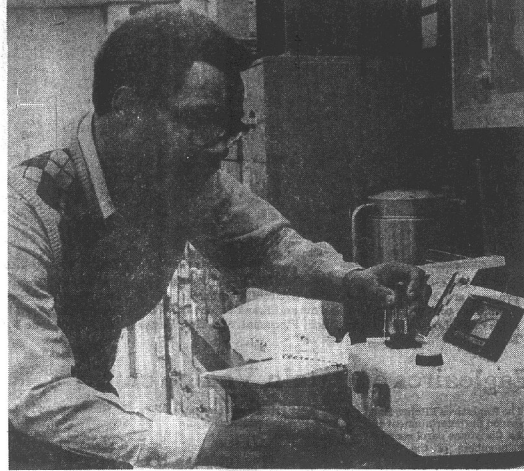

According to Bengtson, graduates in sanitation technology have numerous job opportunities open to them. Besides being qualified wastewater treatment plant operators or managers, graduates can assist designers of treatment plants.

"A graduate can also enter industry as a sales representative in sanitation technology areas and work for the national or state government in environmental protection agencies," Bengtson said. "Those planning to continue their education in graduate school can quite easily enter the area of environmental sciences since their knowledge will cover many areas."

GREATER BENEFICIAL UNION PLANS PARTY

Greater Beneficial Union District 491 of Granite City will host its members and their children at a Christmas party at the Knights of Columbus Hall Dec. 20. The party will begin at 7 p.m. and Santa Claus will visit at 8 p.m.

Santa will distribute gifts to the children, followed by lunch and dancing.

"COD" TEST doesn't always mean something is fishy. Jonathan Smith II of St. Louis takes a measurement on a spectrophotometer as part of a COD test at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. COD is the abbreviation for chemical oxygen demand, a measure of water pollution. Smith, a student in the sanitation technology program at SIUE, is employed by Alcoa as a chemist.

State pays its bills late

If the late-November trend of state spending in excess of revenues continues through the next eight months, a backlog of more than $60 million in unpaid bills will develop, Comptroller George W. Lindberg said in his last monthly financial review.

Lindberg said the state's cash flow crunch will remain until new revenue sources or spending cuts modify the trend, which saw the state spending $266 million more than it took in for its day-to-day operations during the months of July, August, September and October.

In the wake of October's financial pinch, Lindberg said the governor's agencies have begun a slowdown in paying those who do business with the state.

Those affected are doctors, hospitals, nursing homes, drug stores and other commercial enterprises.

"Such a slowdown, if it continues, will have the effect of shifting the cash flow problem of the state to the private sector, thereby allowing the state to partially abandon its fiscal responsibility," Lindberg said.

"That's bad news for businesses."

"To keep the state from becoming a 'dead beat' on paying its bills, we have to face reality. Very soon we must either cut spending or find new income."

His report also:

1. Showed that spending from the state's general funds is running 20 per cent higher in the first third of 1975-76 than in the same period last year.

2. Indicated that revenues to the general funds are up 10 per cent so far this fiscal year over last.

3. Pegged end-of-October general funds' available balance at $49 million, down $266 million since June 30.

4. Showed that spending for road building is up by 24 per cent from July through October over the same period a year ago, public aid grant spending rose 21 per cent and school distributive aid increased 17 per cent in the same period.

Progress in screening of job applicants

The search committee for a vice-president for administration of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has reduced to 13 the number of candidates still under consideration; 148 persons applied for the position.

Vice-President and Provost Andrew J. Kochman, chairman of the committee, said it hopes to find a slate of three eligible candidates in the group of 13 for recommendation to President John S. Rendleman.

The committee expects to complete all interviews for the position by Jan. 15.

The search for a vice-president for administration is part of a general administrative reorganization announced by Dr. Rendleman in August. Another search is underway for an executive dean of student affairs, and the president also is reviewing recommendations from Dr. Kochman for changes in the academic affairs area.

Other members of the search committee for a vice-president for administration are Dean Vaughn J. Lindsey of the Graduate School; Dean Earl Lazerson of the School of Science and Technology; Eugene Halfner, chairman of the Non-Academic Employees Advisory Council; Robin Roberts, president of the Student Body; and Lionel Walford, president of the University Senate.

Takeover by House of library annex opposed

By LESTER BELL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau

Rep. Bob Michel of Peoria and Rep. John B. Anderson of Rockford, two Republican leaders in the House, are dead set against seizure of the new Library of Congress annex for additional Congressional office space.

Bursting at the seams, the Library of Congress is halfway toward completion of its $120 million James A. Madison Memorial Building to house its priceless overflow.

Congressmen, who wait that they need more space, are again casting covetous eyes on the neighboring Madison.

If they do take it over, they will renege on an explicit promise written into the authorization that they would keep hands off.

Despite this, the House Office Building Commission decided last month to renew its quest for the Madison.

The commission is made up of House Speaker Carl Albert, D-Okla., Majority Leader Thomas P. O'Neill Jr., D-Mass., and Minority Leader John J. Rhodes, R-Ariz.

These "heavyweights" of the House are aware that they have a sensitive issue on their hands, and they have been fairly tightlipped about the bill that may be reported out soon. It's so touchy that they may wish to avoid a roll-call vote.

At this point, they cannot count on the support of Michel, who is the House minority whip, and Anderson, the third-ranking House Republican who is chairman of the Republican Conference.

Michel said in an interview he has not discussed the proposed "seizure" with his leader, John Rhodes, but he appeared surprised that Rhodes is supporting the move.

"I personally would be very much opposed to it," Michel said. "I can't see them altering the plans without considerable expense. It would be an in-dubitable hire more people on the bill."

Anderson views the move by the House leadership as a "well-known application of "Parkinson's Law"—if there is additional space, it will be filled."

"I see a further expansion of House payrolls," he continued. "We don't need that. If anything, we need to prune back, get lean and clean up here."

Anderson raised a moral issue of renegeing on the "contract we made" with the Library of Congress not to engage in a takeover.

Dr. Daniel J. Boorstin, another Illinoisan, was installed as the 12th librarian of Congress in the 175-year history of the library just in time last month to be confronted with the latest House foray against the Madison. He's already had a visit from Anderson.

I talked to Dan Boorstin and he has assured me that the space is desperately needed," Anderson said. "It would be the height of folly to try to convert the Madison now."

Anderson is one of four congressmen who have circulated a letter seeking unified opposition to the takeover.

"I will join the charge against that diversion," Anderson vowed. "They can't do that."

It may be too early to tell what the House will do, but if members have to go on record with a roll-call vote they may hesitate to be identified with an official takeover of the building. Anderson believes the House can be dissuaded from seizing the Madison.

Rites held today for Mrs. Walker

Funeral services were held at 1 p.m. today at a local funeral home for Mrs. Clara Bell (Charter) Walker, 79, of 3801 Lake Drive.

She died at 11:15 a.m. Sunday at home.

Survivors include a daughter Mrs. Aldora Wilhelmy and son Charles E. Rogers, both of Granite City; nine grandchildren and 25 great-grandchildren.

Details are given in the obituary column.

For only $1.66, you can make a ten-minute Long Distance call to the farthest point in the United States.

It's almost 2,000 miles from Illinois to Patrick's Point in northern California. By our calculations, it's about the farthest point from Illinois in the United States (excluding Alaska and Hawaii).

Yet for just $1.66, you can call Patrick's Point by Long Distance and talk for ten minutes.

All you have to do is dial direct. And call on the weekend before 9 p.m. Sunday. Now if you can make a ten-minute call as far away as Patrick's Point for only $1.66—obviously, it would cost even less to call Topeka or Pittsburgh or just about anywhere else in the U.S.

Church combats world famine

Families of the First Assembly of God Church, 24th Street and Grand Avenue, broke open more than 100 "love loaves" containing hundreds of coins for their project in combating hunger in the world, the pastor, the Rev. C. Dale Edwards, announced.

Rev. Edwards explained the "love loaves" were small containers made in the shape of a loaf of bread and each family placed the container on their tables as prayer reminders of the project, and contributed coins toward famine relief.

The month-long program yielded over $1,000, an average of $10 per loaf, with the proceeds to be used for the disaster areas of the world and to aid the local Mobile Meals program.

He added the program was introduced in California in 1974 and was adopted by 400 churches. During the 1975-76 years more than 2,000 churches are expected to use the program.

Wider cross-section of public aiding United Ways, new record being set

Despite the effects of inflation and unemployment, Americans are responding to United Way campaigns in record amounts, United Way of America has disclosed.

To date, 275 United Ways have received $538,853,439, including $444,000 to the Tri-Cities Area United Way.

This is a 5.3 per cent increase over the amount reported by the same organizations last year. Campaign reports are running ahead of last year, with $73 million more reported to date. Chairman of the Board C. Peter McCollough said, "We are going to go over the billion mark in the U. S. alone for the first time. This will be a first in the history of philanthropy.

"We predict at least a five per cent increase over last year when results from all 2,300 United Ways are in."

Early figures point to a substantial increase in giving from individual contributors, the largest source of United Way support.

"Although we found more unemployment in larger firms than was anticipated," McCollough said, "smaller companies, the professions, and public service employees have stepped up their contributions.

He attributed the record results to United Way support of programs such as information and referral, credit counseling, job referral, day care and family services that directly relate to urgent needs created by the economy.

"People who are working realize they have a responsibility to help those who are not," he said.

Flint, Mich., is an example of what can happen when a community rallies around human needs and decides to do something about them through United Way, he said.

The U. S. Department of Labor had singled out Flint as having the worst unemployment in the nation. But through increased services to the unemployed, the community saw the need for United Way and responded in record amounts.

"The people of Flint came through with over $53,000 more than has ever been contributed to an annual campaign here," said volunteer Campaign Chairman Ralph E. Huston. A total of $3,591,231 was contributed.

As people were laid off from the hard-hit auto industry, personal calls were made, informing the unemployed of United Way services they might need. United Way offices were thrown open, and a special "Community Services Center" was established to coordinate services to the unemployed.

Birmingham, Ala., faced a difficult year with large layoffs in area iron and steel industries. But a spectacular gain of 10.4 per cent was achieved with increased participation by local coal miners.

United Mine Workers officials, corporate leaders, and United Way volunteers toured 17 mines and talked to 51 different shifts. Mine workers responded with an average per capita gift at one site of $92. Final results showed

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

$5,537,211 received.

In Seattle, Wash., smaller firms and corporate gifts made up for an employment figure down 20 per cent. With corporate giving up 16.3 per cent, United Way of King County came through with $10,513,298, a 9.5 per cent increase.

Across the nation, the figures point to greater contributions than ever before. Instead of "tightening the belt" and withholding contributions, Americans are responding to the need for United Way services in a period of economic uncertainty, the figures show.

Volunteer boards in United Ways allocate these funds on a needs-priority basis to over 37,000 direct service agencies in their communities.

United Way campaigns make possible the work of such organizations as the American Red Cross, Salvation Army, Urban League, Visiting Nurses, YMCA's, Boy and Girl Scouts, health associations and a broad-based group of local programs.

New laws say insurance of divorcees can be continued

Changes in Illinois insurance laws protect persons who are covered under certain types of insurance policies in the event of divorce or legal separation.

The Illinois State Bar Association says the changes in the law prevent an insurance company from automatically terminating coverage for a person who has been insured under the spouse's hospitalization or medical expense policy.

Following a divorce, the insurance company must offer the former spouse a similar policy.

Insurance policies may still contain provisions for terminating coverage for an exposure under the existing policy. But the 1975 Act, representing 18,000 Illinois lawyers, reports that the law now says, "The divorced spouse shall be entitled to have issued to him or her . . . an individual policy of accident and health insurance."

The replacement policy must be issued, if applied for within 60 days following the divorce decree, without evidence of insurability.

Another provision of the amended law states that any probationary or waiting periods for coverage under the replacement policy do not apply in cases of a divorced spouse converting to an individual policy.

These conditions are considered to be satisfied because coverage was in force for the individual under the previous policy.

The law requires that the replacement policy must provide the coverage then available from the insurance company which is more similar to, but not greater than, the terminated coverage.

The insured under the replacement policy then becomes responsible for payment of the premium.

Fires shot at man breaking into apartment.

Sandra Duckett, 2201 State St., Apt. 3, told police at 1:10 a.m. Monday that she had fired a shot at a man breaking into her home Sunday night.

She said about 10:30 p.m. Sunday, she heard someone kicking at the door to her apartment. To protect herself, she obtained a .35 caliber automatic pistol and went into the living room.

She said she entered the living room just as the man kicked the apartment door open. She saw the silhouette of a man in the doorway and fired one shot at him.

The man turned and fled, she said. She did not know if the bullet struck the man, according to police. She said the man was tall and had bushy blond hair.

Police checked nearby hospitals, but were unable to find anyone matching that description seeking treatment for a wound which could have been caused by a gun.
